Second Rabid Bat Found In San Rafael

Health Department Warns Of 'Grave Implications'

RICHARD K. SPARKS
Superintendent's aide

A second rabid bat has been found in San Rafael, and the county health department has issued a warning that "the situation has grave implications."

Report of the rabid bat was hand-delivered by a representative of the health department yesterday morning to an office provided by the county for representatives of San Francisco newspapers in the courthouse. No delivery was made to the Independent-Journal.

Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, county health officer, reported that the second rabid bat was found Friday by A. C. McNamara in the front yard of his home at 1105 Grand avenue.

CAUGHT BY DOG

McNamara, who is manager of the St. Vincent de Paul Thrift Shop in San Rafael, said his dog was playing with the animal when he spotted it.

McNamara killed the bat with a trowel and turned it over to Dr. Albrecht's department for tests, which were made by the state Department of Public Health. Result, reported Monday, was that the bat was rabid.

McNamara's dog was vaccinated against rabies last August, Dr. Albrecht reported. She said she has recommended that the dog be immediately re-vaccinated to boost his immunity. She said there was no indication the bat had bitten the dog.

FIRST RABID BAT

The first rabid bat of 1959 was found in San Rafael June 11 by Mrs. Gladys Mekisich of 1826 Fifth avenue. Her two cats were playing with the bat. Because the cats had not been vaccinated against rabies, Dr. Albrecht recommended they be destroyed.

One humorous aspect of the rabies situation was noted by Dr. Albrecht: "I can not help being somewhat amused by the fact that rabid animals are now being found within two blocks of the health department."

Dr. Albrecht issued a warning to parents to see that children are warned to stay away from bats, and a request that any bat bites be promptly re-

County School Board Hires 2 Aides For Hollis

Two top aides for County School Supt. Virgil S. Hollis were hired last night by unanimous vote of the Marin County Board of Education.

Dr. Richard H. Hinze, 38, assistant superintendent of the Phoenix (Ariz.) Elementary School District, will become assistant superintendent in charge of education services for Marin County. He succeeds Richard L. Foster, who resigned. Dr. Hinze was hired under a four-year contract, with an annual salary of $12,148.

Dr. Richard K. Sparks, 44, associate professor at Los Angeles State College with specialties in law finance and business, will become assistant superintendent in charge of business administration services.

He is hired for three and one-half years, until the end of the present superintendent's present term of office. Dr. Sparks will get $10,344 per year. He succeeds Leland W. Harris, who resigned.

A screening committee composed of Bay Area educators, and local interview committees, had selected the two men from among several candidates. Superintendent Hollis also recommended the same two, and the county board of education approved without dissent.

The only question that came up for query was the salary for Dr. Hinze. Board member Robert Randolph noted that the $12,148 salary for Dr. Hinze is the same as for Foster. Normally, a replacement would not come in at the same salary as his predecessor who has many years of experience on the job.

Dr. Hollis said the salary is based on experience and the number of units acquired by

200 MILLIONTH ACROSS GATE BRIDGE

When Mrs. William Clifford of Tiburon drove across the Golden Gate Bridge yesterday, she became an interesting statistic: Her car was the 200 millionth vehicle to cross the span. Her rewards were a free crossing (toll paid by Dan London, right, chairman of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District) and a book of 40 commute tickets. With Mrs. Clifford were her sons (front to rear) Billy, 3; Michael, 5, and Jackie, 1. Behind her is Capt. Ray Logan, in charge of bridge toll collectors.

Swank Belvedere Homesites Planned

Plans for about 40 exclusive waterfront homesites on the western shore of Belvedere Island, to be created by dredging, were disclosed yesterday with the filing of an application with the Army Corps of Engineers to permit start of the operation.

Developer of the plan is the Belvedere Properties Co., an adjunct of the Belvedere Land Co., which has promoted and built the Belvedere Lagoon Properties and many other Belvedere developments.

Howard Allen, member of the firm, said today the plan envisions dredging a channel some 2,900 feet long, paralleling the bluffs on the western side of the island about 100 feet bayward from the shore.

Allen said about 75,000 cubic yards of material would be removed and deposited shoreward to create a "shelf" for the new homesites.

"Last winter," Allen said, "we developed a 'test' strip some 600 feet long to see how it would work out. This has stood up well and the current plan will be a continuation of that job."

At the northern end of the project, there is already some land above water and the dredging operation will represent a continuation southward of that portion, Allen said.

Land preparation alone, Allen estimated, would cost $20,000 per lot, indicating an investment of $800,000 for site preparation.

"These sites face southwest toward Sausalito and are at the base of the Belvedere cliffs so that any construction could not block the view from existing homes high on the bluff," Allen said.

He said that fronting the

$1.1 Million Budget For College Eyed

Marin Junior College district trustees last night approved a tentative budget of $1,157,893 for the 1959-60 fiscal year, an increase of $163,893.

President Ward H. Austin said the district's 35-cent tax rate will yield an estimated $567,000.

Other revenue estimates include $157,625 in state apportionments and allowances, $40,000 in county subventions, $10,896 in federal subventions and $20,000 in adult school tuition fees.

TOTAL INCOME

Total income from all sources is expected to be $913,816. The district's net beginning balance on July 1 will be $244,077, Austin predicted.

Trustees voted to transfer to the district's special building fund $43,689. The figure represents 1958-59 tax collections beyond 90 per cent of assessed valuation, money which in past years has gone into the general fund. Collections normally run about 97 per cent.

The transfer increases the special building fund to $111,138. Board members hope the procedure can help to avoid bond issues.

EXPENSE SUMMARY

Austin summarized proposed expenditures as:

Administration, $49,810 (up $9,000); instruction, $573,220 (up $42,000); operation of school plans, $90,000 (down $2,000); maintenance of plant, $19,000 (down $13,500); auxiliary services, $12,400 (up $900); fixed charges, $38,000 (up $100); transportation of pupils, $6,500 (up $550); food service, $1,500 (up $1,200); community services, $1,500 (down $1,500); capital outlay, $108,627 (down $22,000).

The general reserve was tentatively approved at $50,000 and undistributed reserve at $207,286.

Board members said Austin will be required to prepare a preliminary budget for board review and action in the future.

Shark Alert Stepped Up In Bay Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Precautions against sharks were stepped up in the San Francisco Bay Area today.

The 12th Coast Guard District alerted its Bay Area units to be on the lookout for sharks, which have killed two persons off California beaches in a month.

San Francisco Mayor George Christopher said he will attempt find out if a Marine Corps shark patrol is possible here. He also announced he will ask the Coast Guard for suggestions in fighting the potential killers.

San Francisco Supervisor William C. Blake asked for the loan of steel anti-submarine nets in a letter to the 12th Naval District. Nets are now stored at the Tiburon Naval Net Depot.

He suggested they could be set up at Aquatic Park.

A Coast Guard spokesman stressed that no "shark patrol" was going into effect.

Another official, Capt. Carl Bowman, said "any sightings of sharks will be reported to our rescue and coordination center in San Francisco." He is Coast Guard chief of staff.

Two Planners Will Retire From San Rafael Commission

Two members of the San Rafael Planning Commission do not want reappointments to the commission for another four years, they disclosed at last night's meeting.

Both Charles Hendrickson and Thomas Stark indicated they are too busy for another term and will be quitting when their present terms expire this month. City councilmen are looking around for successors to the two.

Chairman Pat Hetherton's term is also expiring.

The planning commission decided to recommend once again that the planned commercial and light industrial area in East San Rafael Assessment District be rezoned for a special type of apartment district. Harold Fulkerson of the San Rafael Board of Education reported that such a rezoning is expected to increase population to the point where 25 to 30 acres of school sites would be needed in the area east of Francisco boulevard.

School Supt. Frank Lucas estimated it would cost $3,895,000 plus cost of land to serve 2,600 youngsters expected in the area at full development.

Mail Scattered In Strawberry

Somebody has been pilfering letters out of mail boxes on South Knoll road in Strawberry and scattering them on the ground, a resident complained to the sheriff yesterday.

Brook Hinton of 11 South Knoll road said his wife found letters from their mail box and adjoining boxes scattered at the foot of the boxes. Deputy Sheriff Harold Sleezer walked down the road and noticed other mail scattered along Knoll road. He said it appears to be the prank of some youngsters walking along the road.

Court Writes Finis To Bay Crossing Proposal

Grandiose plans of T. A. Tomasini for a combination bridge-tube Bay crossing from Marin to Alameda County—plans which outlived Tomasini, who died last March—finally ended yesterday as the state District Court of Appeal acted to terminate Tomasini's franchise.

Tomasini obtained the franchise in 1928 for a crossing from Pt. Fleming near Albany to the Tiburon Peninsula.

In the same year, he obtained a franchise from Marin County for a portion of the crossing—a toll bridge from Sausalito to the Tiburon Peninsula. This franchise was revoked by the Marin County Board of Supervisors last October.

Meanwhile, an attempt by the state to revoke the basic franchise was winding its way through the courts. The Alameda County Superior Court ruled the franchise invalid as Tomasini had not carried out the plan.

Tomasini appealed the Alameda court's ruling last July. Yesterday the appellate court dismissed the appeal and Tomasini's plan is dead after 31 years.

Huge Forest Fire Raging In Sonoma

Checked, But Not Controlled

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—A crew of 300 men today stopped the spread of a forest fire roaring through a rugged redwood mountain area 40 miles northwest of here.

A rough line was set up around the fire's perimeter as fire-fighters were aided by diminishing winds.

State Forest Ranger Jack Kessler said "We hope we are going to be able to hold it." He said weather conditions between 3 and 11 p.m. will determine the battle's outcome.

WINDS WHIP FLAMES

Winds of 20 to 45 miles per hour earlier whipped flames through 2,000 acres of redwood and Douglas fir forest, logging slash and grazing land eight miles inland from the Sonoma County coast.

Winds dropped to 10 to 12 miles per hour later this morning. Back from a plane trip over the fire area, Kessler predicted the fire will be well contained by midnight if good weather holds.

Some 20 pumping units and 30 bulldozers are on the lines in operations today, including pumpers from as far away as Monterey County.

NO INJURIES

There were no injuries among fire-fighters and residents in the sparsely inhabited fire area. But two men operating a bulldozer barely escaped being trapped by flames during the night, Kessler said.

Some 80 campers from Berkeley were brought here from a YMCA camp in the path of the fire yesterday shortly after the blaze broke out.

Fire-fighters have saved ranch homes in the blaze's path.

The fire-fighters included state Division of Forestry men, area loggers and about 100 San Quentin Prison honor camp inmates.

The blaze broke out yesterday afternoon in a logging area when friction on wires or cables through a pulley ignited the surrounding area.

Ambulance Driver Finds Own Family Injured In Accident

When an ambulance driver arrived at the scene of an accident this morning he found the victims were his wife and 2-year-old daughter.

S/Sgt. Carl W. Maier of the 78th USAF Hospital at Hamilton Air Force Base was sent to Highway 101 just north of Novato and found his wife, Charlotte, had suffered a back injury and his daughter was shaken up.

They were passengers in a northbound car driven by Jack Joseph Spillane, retired San Quentin Prison guard, which ran off the road when a tire blew out. Spillane was uninjured.

Spillane lives at 1414 Lincoln avenue and the Maiers at 1430 Lincoln, in San Rafael.

Hallinan Son On Probation

Conn Malachy Hallinan, 16, son of Ross attorney Vincent Hallinan, will be on probation until Sept. 30 for following another car too closely and colliding with it in Larkspur June 2.

The mishap occurred at Magnolia and Alexander avenues.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Traffic Court put the youth on probation on condition he observe all traffic laws. Conn appeared with his mother and said the sun had blinded him for a moment, and he did not see the car ahead in time.

WEATHER MAN SAYS MERCURY TO STAY HIGH

Keep the fan going—the Weather Man says it's going to keep right on being hot through tomorrow.

Temperatures have been 10 to 20 degrees above normal in northern and central California the past few days.

While San Diego yesterday had the relatively low reading of 74, and San Francisco 75, temperatures in Marin soared.

Some of them were: Novato, 97; San Anselmo, 98; Woodacre, 95; Mill Valley, 92; Belvedere, 82, and the top of Mt. Tamalpais, 90.

College Board Approves Pay Raises For 78

Pay raises totaling $18,800 for College of Marin teachers, $7,400 for non-teaching personnel, $5,000 for administrators and $800 for librarians were unanimously approved last night by the Marin Junior College District board.

The increases, amounting to $32,000 for 78 persons, will take effect July 1.

The college faculty, which sought a 7½ per cent pay hike of $32,400, had to settle for slightly more than half that amount. The teachers were given across-the-board $400 raises.

NORMAL INCREASE

Those not now at the top of their salary range also will receive the normal annual one-step increase of $200.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy said the board was not entirely satisfied with the faculty raises, but could see no other solution.

She said she sympathized with teachers in the top pay steps, who will get $400 raises but no step increases. She said she is "unhappy at putting more money at the beginning of the (salary) schedule" and called for a study to correct the situation.

William W. Howe, president of the faculty association, thanked the board and expressed hope the teaching staff can "meet with you in the fall to continue this rectification."

$400 RAISES

The board also gave $400 raises to the college's two librarians, Charles D. Mastin and Miss Gwendolyn Schultz. Similar increases were approved for Mrs. Juanita Willis, payroll clerk and veterans' adviser, and Miss Grace Donnan, college registrar. Twenty-two other non-teaching employees received $300 pay boosts.

The college's five administrators each received $1,000 increases.

Effective July 1, president Ward H. Austin's salary will jump to $15,000. Vice president Paul Clymer will receive $11,300; Dr. Marjorie J. Palmquist, dean of women, and Irwin P. Diamond, dean of men, $10,000 each, and Dr. Samuel N. LeCount, principal of the adult school, $10,120.

State Rights Bill Passed In House Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today passed a states rights bill strongly opposed by the Eisenhower administration. Republicans voted heavily for it, along with Southern Democrats.

The roll call for passage was 225-192.

The bill would in effect reverse a series of Supreme Court decisions by providing that federal laws do not automatically take over from state enactments in the same field.

It now goes to an uncertain fate in the Senate, which let a similar House-passed bill die last year.

A signal that the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition was in control came earlier in the day with rejection of a key amendment sought by opponents of the bill. Republican ranks were almost solid in that standing vote of 195-129 against a proposal to apply the new rule only to laws passed in the future.

"I am happy to see the entire phalanx of Republicans rushing to the aid of their attorney general," Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) said ironically at that point.

That was a reference to statements by the Department of Justice that the bill should be defeated because it would create confusion over laws in a wide variety of fields such as transportation, food and drugs, labor-management and utilities.

Two Convicts Scrap Again

Two San Quentin Prison inmates, involved in a prison scrap earlier this month, were at it again today.

Both were sent to the hospital with injuries suffered in armed assaults on each other, prison authorities said.

A fight between Edmund E. Reeves and Donald Lee Phillips, both 20, was broken up outside a vocational shop shortly after 10 a.m.

Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff said Reeves was armed with a knife and what appeared to be a sharpened spoon, and that Phillips used a three-foot piece of iron.

Reeves suffered several gashes on his head, and Phillips a long cut on his throat and right shoulder.

On June 6, Reeves sent Phillips to the hospital with deep head gashes inflicted with a 12-inch steel bolt.

Deputy Shoots 18 Inch Rattlesnake

A sheriff's deputy shot and killed an 18-inch rattlesnake with two rattles in Marinwood last night.

Camella H. Wilson of 360 Ironstone court called for help at 5:15 p.m. when she spotted the rattler in her yard.

Deputy Sheriff Arthur Wiggins shot the snake and buried it.

College Trustees Levy Special Tax

College of Marin trustees voted 3-1 last night to levy a one-year community service tax of three and one-half cents to finance improvements to the college football field and adjacent areas.

Principal improvement will be the installation of new lighting. Work will cost approximately $34,000. A $10,000 restroom also is planned and painting and paving.

Thte tax is expected to raise $59,535, while the various projects are estimated to cost $56,950.

Trustee George G. Washburn opposed the special override tax, which will be in addition to the district's basic 35-cent rate.

He termed it "an unnecessary expense" and said he saw no reason why football could not be played in the daytime.

"I think more than football groups use the college field," countered Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy.

The approval motion was offered by Trustee Kent O. Seymour, who stressed that the expense will be non-recurring.

Seymour said restoration of the lighting system should be accomplished "for the good of the college and the community, but with a more permanent installation because of a long-time over-all economy."

NMWD Board Votes Budget Of $322,000

Directors of the North Marin Water District last night gave final approval to a $322,000 budget for 1959-60 fiscal year, an increase of $20,000 over the current year's estimated expenditures.

Directors transferred $20,000 out of current operating surpluses, to be applied to next year's operations in order to insure against a rise in the tax rate, now 37 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

The new budget includes $176,000 for operating expenses and $41,000 for capital improvements. Included also is a $30,000 reserve fund and $45,000 for rebate payments on former extension agreements.

Included in operating expenses are: $9,022, Stafford Lake operation; $19,800, pumping costs; $46,700, purification; $37,500, maintenance of transmission lines; $39,000, general administration, and $23,000, customer accounts and collection expenses.

Capital improvements include pipe line improvements along Armstrong street, Bradley and Marion avenues in Novato and along Beattie avenue in Black Point. Also planned is the fencing of the Lynwood tank, new chlorine units at the treatment plant, temporary booster pumps for Marin Heights and Eucalyptus areas, two new trucks, and miscellaneous construction equipment.

Directors raised their fees to $20 a meeting, limited to no more than three meetings a month, the legal limit. They have been receiving $10.

Attorney Denies Charges Hurled At Marin Couple In Fraud Suit

The attorney for a Mill Valley man and wife who have been sued over alleged fraud involving half a million dollars today replied that the suit does not entail the allegations against the defendants and charged that "the obvious import of these blanket accusations . . . is an attempt to harass and oppress (the defendants) . . ."

The attorney is Robert A. Hansen of San Francisco. Defendants in the suit of Mr. and Mrs. Walter I. Merila of 20 Heather way, Mill Valley.

The suit, filed by a Minneapolis firm, Manufacturers Alliance Corp., and several of its officers, charges that the Merilas collected large amounts of commissions on sales which were not valid, and otherwise fraudulently obtained money from the firm while Merila was its sales manager.

Hensen, in a letter to the Independent - Journal, said every sale handled by Merila was subject to approval by the firm of a credit statement on the buyer, and the transactions were then submitted by the firm to a lending institution for financing. Sales involved the company's vending machines.

No commissions were paid to Merila until these steps of investigation and approval were carried out, Hansen declared.

As to a supplementary charge in the suit that the Merilas hastily departed from Minneopolis to escape service of papers in a similar suit, Hansen said Merila notified the company in his letter of resignation that he intended to move to Honolulu and all parties to the present suit knew that he was going there.

Further, Hansen said, there was no suggestion of a claim or lawsuit against the Merilas at the time they left for Honolulu.

The attorney's letter claimed that "Upon a trial of this controversy, (the defendants') nonliability and non-responsibility in this matter will be absolutely demonstrated."

Telephones have been installed atop Fujiyama in Japan. The mountain is 12,425 feet high.

College Dean On CTA Commission

Mr. William K. Mayo, dean of instruction at City College of San Francisco, has been named a member of the newly formed Commission on Higher Education of the California Teachers Assn.

The commission will study and make recommendations on the coordination of existing programs, public and financial support, improvement of personnel policies for academic staff, and the improvement of instruction.

Mayo, a member of the City College of San Francisco faculty since 1939, was for seven years a Marin County flood control commissioner. He is a former member of the Novato School board.

Bitten Man Takes Shots For Rabies

A Mill Valley man, who has no way of knowing whether the dog that bit him had rabies, this morning began a series of painful and expensive Pasteur treatments.

George Hildreth of 179 Tamalpais avenue said he "really had no choice" after several physicians advised him that if the dog had rabies and had transmitted the disease to him, he would inevitably die.

Hildreth was wounded by his dog's fang Friday night after the dog became ill. Hildreth, believing the dog was choking, reached into the dog's throat in an attempt to fish out any object that might be lodged there. The dog's fang broke Hildreth's skin. Shortly afterward the dog died.

Hildreth made arrangements through the county health department to have the dog's body delivered to the Marin Humane Society office in San Rafael so that rabies tests could be made.

The body was delivered, but inadvertently destroyed. No tests were made, leaving Hildreth the choice of taking the fearsome two-week Pasteur treatments or taking his chances that the dog was not rabid. He elected to take the treatments.

Berkeley Rejects School Bonds

BERKELEY (AP) — Berkeley voters rejected a $9,980,000 school bond issue at a special election yesterday.

The count was 13,194 for the bonds and 8,662 against. The issue required a two-thirds majority. The same bond plan was defeated at the regular election April 7.

Marin Woman Observes 105th Birthday Today

The observance of Ellen Fairhurst's birthday in San Rafael today may not have been as lively an affair as it once was, but too much excitement at 105 is not a good thing.

Members of her family who live in the area planned to call on her during the day. Her two sons, Cyril J. and A. W., own the Fairhurst Lumber Co. in San Rafael, and her grandson, Jack, is also a member of the firm.

When Mrs. Fairhurst was 10 years old the Civil War was still being fought, but she can be excused for not remembering it for she was living in her native Dublin, Ireland. Her name then was Mary Ellen Kelly. She was educated there, and then lived in Paris for a time.

When she married in 1891, Mrs. Fairhurst was a buyer of coats and suits for Cripps, the largest store in Liverpool. She went to Utah to live and had three children, two of whom are still living. Her 21 great-grandchildren range in age from five months to high school age.

Mrs. Fairhurst now lives in a San Rafael rest home, but she dresses herself, and enjoys her three meals daily. Arthritis keeps her from doing the crochet and needle work she used to enjoy. She likes magazines, particularly pictorial ones, and keeps up with things in the Independent - Journal, according to her sons.

Attending Roman Catholic Mass was a regular thing for Mrs. Fairhurst until 18 months ago. Now Rev. Daniel McAlister of St. Raphael's Church sees her every Monday to attend to her spiritual needs.

Wedding Held In Pioneer Setting

KEMMERER, Wyo. (AP)—In a setting reminiscent of 100 years ago, Judith Day Roudebaugh, 18, and Thomas A. Hollaman, 21, both of Drain, Ore., were married yesterday in a circle of covered wagons.

The background was formed by prairie schooners of the Oregon Cavalcade, which is retracing the old Oregon Trail between Independence, Mo., and Independence, Ore., in celebration of Oregon's centennial.

The ceremony, with the principals attired in pioneer clothes, took place at the Oregon Trail monument in Kemmerer's Triangle Park. Rev. R. F. Meier, pastor of Kemmerer Methodist Church, officiated.

Reed Pupils Superior In Special Test

Reed Union School District trustees learned last night that the Reed School eighth graders rated superior in Iowa language skills tests.

Principal Robert B. Gaw said the eighth grade median was 10.7, which is 1.9 above the national norm of 8.8. He said the results were a reflection of the language courses started last September, and the new and partial departmentalization of the seventh and eighth grades.

A six-week concentrated course in "methods of study" will be given next fall for entering seventh graders, Gaw said.

Trustees decided against entering into an agreement with Belvedere which would provide use of the Belvedere School playground for exclusive use of Belvedere residents for after-school recreation.

The decision followed a request from the Belvedere Recreation Commission asking exclusive use of the grounds by residents of Belvedere to provide additional recreational facilities.

Queen Continues Canada Cruise

THREE RIVERS, Canada (UPI) —Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, Prince Philip, sailed here today aboard the royal yacht Britannia after an all-night cruise from Quebec City.

On their arrival, the royal couple was to be met by Quebec Premier Maurice Duplessis, and taken on a sightseeing drive through the community. During their one-hour visit, they were to make a stop at the Monument le Flambeau where the queen was to sign the golden book after meeting the city council, clergy and other citizens and their wives.

The royal couple was scheduled to board the Britannia later today and proceed to Montreal, where the queen and President Eisenhower will officially open the St. Lawrence Seaway Friday.

Truck Overturns; Driver Injured

Dennis Crandall, 27, of 201 West Baltimore avenue, Larkspur, suffered a bump behind his left ear and a bruised left shoulder when the Montgomery Ward panel delivery truck he was driving went out of control and overturned late yesterday afternoon on Sir Francis Drake highway about two miles west of Inverness, reported the California Highway Patrol.

The delivery truck was a total wreck. Crandall, a service-repairman for Ward's in San Rafael, was planning to consult a doctor today. He was headed toward San Rafael when the accident happened.

County GOP To Keep Out Of Marin Primary Campaigns

The Marin County Republican Central Committee decided last night to stay completely out of Republican primary campaigns next year.

The matter came up because of the announcement yesterday that Assemblyman Richard H. McCollister will retire at the end of his present term.

His retirement has been forecast for some time, and there are several known Republican aspirants for the Marin-Sonoma Assembly seat.

The central committee noted that the repeal of California's "cross-filing" law at the just-ended session of the Legislature removes the possibility of a member of another party's capturing a Republican nomination, and was designed to open up primary races to all comers, with party members to select their nominees at the polls.

Hence there should be no pre-primary endorsements, committee members felt.

The committee also received the resignation of Edward Ward of Corte Madera as a central committeeman. Ward resigned because of the pressure of business, creating a second vacancy on the committee. The other is the vacancy caused by the resignation of George Thierbach of Corte Madera, who quit when he was appointed a director of the Marin Municipal Water District.

COOL, MAN

When it's hot and dry, there's nothing like whipping up a batch of mud in your back yard and really getting with it. Two-year-old Tommy Marney tried that heat-beater and showed solemn satisfaction as the cool stuff oozed between toes and fingers—and elsewhere. He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marney of Atlanta, Ga. SHARK SIGNS FAIL TO AMUSE BEACH POLICE

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — Two young men from Sunnyvale were picked up by police in the early light of dawn today as they staked the last of 36 signs along the ocean front.

The signs, carefully lettered, said: "PLEASE DO NOT FEED THE SHARKS."

Roger R. LaJeunnesse, 21, and Harvey L. Stovall, 23, were released on $100 bail.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Richard Pease said the police booking charge of malicious mischief might not cover the incident. But he is looking for a statute that will.

Novato School Pay Raises Approved

Administrators of Novato Unified School District will be given salary increases ranging from $600 to $1,300 next year, and classified personnel will receive a 5 per cent across-the-board raise, trustees decided last night.

Trustees adopted a plan which would insure against the possibility of any principal or vice principal receiving a lower salary than any teacher in the district.

Supt. William J. J. Smith and Eugene Debrecht, business manager, who are contracted with separately from other administrators, also were voted increases. Smith's salary of $11,000 was upped to $13,000. Debrecht's salary will go from $9,000 to $10,000.

Trustees deferred action on proposed increases for school secretaries.

Increases for the district's 36 classified employees represents a $141,497 jump, Debrecht said. The total is $707,500.

Trustees also voted to proceed with plans to develop the 10-acre Connell site off South Novato boulevard as an elementary school location, despite county planning commission disapproval.

The county planners have indicated that an extension of Hill avenue would cut directly through the property. Trustees have maintained, however, that they will block any such plans.

Starkweather Execution Set Tomorrow

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Charles Starkweather, 20-year-old confessed slayer of 11 persons, is scheduled to die in the electric chair at the state penitentiary tomorrow.

His execution will come shortly after midnight tonight—unless it is again stayed for more court action.

The fifth death date for the red-haired killer was set yesterday by the state Supreme Court after formal notice that the U.S. Supreme Court had declined to review the case was received.

Guy Starkweather, father of Charles, said he would file in district court in Lincoln today for a writ of coram nobis, alleging illegal detainment.

General Dean Sounds Alarm Of Red Peril

Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, a hero of the Korean War, expressed alarm over what threat of communism last night before an audience of Marin naval reservists at the College of Marin.

Gen. Dean, who is retired, who expressed alarm over what he termed a too-rapid cutback of the armed forces.

Dean, a prisoner of the North Korean Communists for three years, said he fears America is approaching the same situation it reached just prior to the invasion by North Korean troops of South Korea nine years ago.

He said the U.S. must be ready for all types of war—"brush fires as well as all-out war. We are being nibbled to death by brush fires."

General Dean claimed the best source of Communist information about the Western allies is "our own free press."

"Despite the daily headlines, the summit conferences, the planes being shot at—despite these daily warnings, there is public apathy toward communism," he declared.

Hospital Area Secession Now Official

Directors of Marin County Hospital District drummed the Novato area out of the district last night.

By resolution, the board declared the area officially excluded. It was a formality, confirming the wishes of 750 of the area's 5,138 eligible voters. A total of 410 voters opposed secession at a special election May 26.

The excluded area, coinciding with the 75-square-mile Novato Fire District, immediately fell into the non-resident classification after last night's action and became subject to a $3 a day per person differential fee for use of Marin General Hospital.

However, directors decided to establish the same daily hospital rates for North Marinites as those charged residents of the district.

sites would be a six feet deep channel at low tide. It would be 60 feet wide for the full legth of the project, providing access for boats.

Protests to the application must be filed with the Corps of Engineers by July 22.

"It may be a couple of years before all the sites are ready," Allen said. "We expect to have about 1,000 feet of the project dredged by the end of this year."

the person hired. Since the salary schedule calls for that amount, he said, he feels it should be given to the new man, who fully qualifies.

Board members agreed that in this instance, the salary should be approved as recommended by Hollis.

HELD FOR TESTS

With bats as with any other animals, she noted, the biting animal should be held for rabies tests.

Persons whose premises have "bat infestations" should report the conditions to the department's sanitation division, she said, for assistance in getting rid of the pests.

Meanwhile, the health department announced the 1959 schedule of clinics for vaccination of dogs—no other animals—against rabies. All clinics are to be held from 7 to 9 p.m.

Morals Offender Made Court Ward

Traveling salesman Cameron Loessberg, who seduced a 16-year-old San Rafael girl last February, was paroled from his county jail sentence and made a ward of juvenile court today.

Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori held a closed juvenile court hearing this morning and made Loessberg a ward of the court.

The youth's home is in Sacramento, and he was ordered transferred there.

Loessberg was paroled for two years. He admitted contributing to the delinquency of the girl. He originally was sentenced to jail as an adult because he gave his age as 22.

NEPHEW GREETS FUCHS — Klaus Fuchs (right), scientest-spy who gave Russia atomic bomb secrets, was greeted by his nephew, Klaus Kittowski, on arrival at airport near East Berlin yesterday. Fuchs was discharged from British prison after serving nine years, and plans to rejoin his father in East Germany. (AP Wirephoto)

BEHIND IRON CURTAIN

Spy Fuchs Bears No Grudge Against West

BERLIN (AP) — Klaus Fuchs disappeared behind the Iron Curtain last night, saying he bears no grudge against the British for his nine years in prison as an atom spy.

The German-born scientist was hustled out of England after his release from a 14-year sentence for handing secrets of the atomic bomb to the Soviet Union. He had been stripped of his naturalized British citizenship upon his conviction, and the British government did not try to prevent him from joining his father in Communist East Germany.

Newsmen were barred from speaking to Fuchs during his last hours in England. But several booked seats aboard the Polish airliner that flew him to Germany and reported their interviews with him today.

"I wish to say that I bear no resentment whatever against Britain or any of the Western countries for what has happened," the 47-year-old physicist said.

"I would also say that I am pleased to be going to the East German Democratic Republic. But about my future plans I have made no definite arrangements."

He would only say he is rejoining his father, Dr. Emil Fuchs, a professor of theology in Leipzig.

Wife's Flight Hints Freedom For Gov. Long

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The departure of Mrs. Earl K. Long indicated today members of the Louisiana governor's family have given up the fight to keep him in a mental hospital.

Joe Arthur Sims, chief attorney for the fiery 63-year-old governor, said Mrs. Long's departure last night assured Long's release. Sims would not elaborate on his optimistic outlook, but said today he had checked the report of Mrs. Long's leaving and had confirmed it.

Mrs. Long's departure removes the chief opposing witness from a hearing today at Covington where the governor planned to ask Dist. Judge Robert Jones for his release from the Southeast Louisiana Hospital.

Judge Jones declined comment on Mrs. Long's decision.

Mrs. Long had no tindicated whether she would oppose the governor's latest bid for freedom. But Sims said he had summoned her as a witness.

There was also no word of opposition to the hearing from Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.), the governor's nephew, or Dr. Arthur Long, who treated the governor after his profanity-strewn flareup in a legislative hearing four weeks ago.

At Sim's request, court authorities issued subpoenas yesterday for Mrs. Long and 15 others wanted as witnesses.

At Mineral Show

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reinecke of 127 Sunnyside, Mill Valley, will display samples of their work at the statewide Gem and Mineral Fiesta in San Mateo from June 26 through 28. Reinecke is largely responsible for creation of a unique jade clock, to be exhibited by the San Francisco Gem and Mineral Society.

Americans make an average of 10,562,000 toll telephone calls each day.

INJURED HOSTAGE — Nurse wipes blood from head of Robert Rosendahl, most seriously injured of five guards held hostage for 16 hours yesterday by rioting inmates of U.S. Prison Medical Center at Springfield, Mo. The riot was quelled by a bulldozer and tear gas. (AP Wirephoto)

Warden Says 3 Led Medical Prison Riot

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UPI) — The warden of the U.S. Prison Medical Center said today that three men were ringleaders of the riot in which five guards were held prisoner for 16 hours.

The riot was put down yesterday by a bulldozer and tear gas attack by guards and policemen, who freed the hostages.

Warden Russell O. Settle said there still was no explanation for the riot and probably would be none until the rioters decide to talk. He did not identify the ringleaders.

Only 50 of the 106 prisoners confined in the homosexual wing of the sprawling hospital actively participated in the outbreak.

The five guards held captive said they had been positive they were going to be killed in the final minutes before a five-pronged assault force of 125 lawmen broke into the wing and freed them. The prisoners had no guns. They were armed with knives.

All five guards, stripped to their shorts, were injured, one seriously.

Associate Warden G. V. Richardson said it wasn't known if the ringleaders and their associates were just malcontents, if they really were trying to escape or if the riot broke out because of a minor altercation.

As officers rammed through a heavy metal door the patients used as a barricade, one guard, William L. Fitch, 45, slipped out to safety.

Following him to safety were Leonard Appleby, 55; Robert Rosendahl, 38; Charles Allen, 48, and Melvin Jung, 57.

Military Aid Policy Changes Asked By Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today to place U. S. foreign military aid on a long-term basis and shift its control to the Defense Department to end "contentious" bickering.

These were two of 12 recommendations for a sweeping reorganization of the aid program made in a 36-page report by Eisenhower's special committee on military assistance. The President endorsed the proposals in letters to Speaker Sam Rayburn and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

IKE TO ACT

The chief executive said he probably would put into effect by executive action all the recommendations which did not require legislation. These include the planning of military aid to allied nations on a three-year and eventually a five-year basis.

Eisenhower asked Congress to amend the Mutual Security Law so he could carry out these other key proposals:

1. "There should be a continuing authorization for the military assistance appropriation in order to provide a sound legislation framework for multi-year planning and programming."

CENTER RESPONSIBILITY

2. "The military assistance appropriations should be placed in the Department of Defense budget to center responsibility for administering the program more positively in the Defense Department."

In plugging for long-range aid planning, William H. Draper Jr., head of the committee, told newsmen, "We can't fight a 100-year war, which I suppose this is, by a year-to-year approach." Even if planning and authorization of the aid program were placed on a long-run basis, Congress would have to provide funds each year.

The first friction match was patented in Britain in 1826.

TV Superman's Death Confirmed As Suicide

TONI MANNIX
Mysterious phone calls

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—TV Superman George Reeves committed suicide, according to results of a second autopsy, Coroner Theodore J. Curphey announced yesterday.

Curphey's action, taken after Reeves' mother doubted her son had taken his own life, also disclosed that Reeves was under the influence of alcohol at the time of his death.

Reeves left guests in the living room of his home June 16 and mounted to the second-floor bedroom. A shot then was heard. The television performer was found dead.

"It is my opinion the wound was self-inflicted," Curphey said.

Several questions which continued to puzzle friends and associates included:

1. The incessant phone calls police said he received from a former girl friend.

2. Why he would leave most of his $50,000 estate to the wife of a film executive instead of to his fiancee.

3. Why a coroner's seal on his Benedict Canyon home was broken.

The city attorney's office disclosed that Reeves had complained about phone calls which came from a woman. Reeves said he believed the calls came from Mrs. Toni Mannix, the main beneficiary, but a subsequent investigation showed the calls did not come from her home.

Mrs. Mannis, wife of Eddie J. Mannix, former general manager of MGM and president of Loew's, in turn had accused Reeves of annoying her, police said.

Reeves' will leaving most of his estate to Mrs. Mannix, who said she had been a "close friend" of Reeves, will be contested at a July 10 hearing by his mother, Mrs. Helen Lescher Bessolo of Galesburg, Ill.

40 And 8 Parades In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Blue-smocked "cooties" of the 40 and 8 organization of the American Legion held a one-hour parade along Hollywood boulevard last night as a preliminary to their official welcome today by Mayor Norris Poulson and other dignitaries.

The parade last night consisted of 25 red boxcars and locomotives similar to those used by the Army in France during World War I, six automobiles, 25 marching units and two bands.

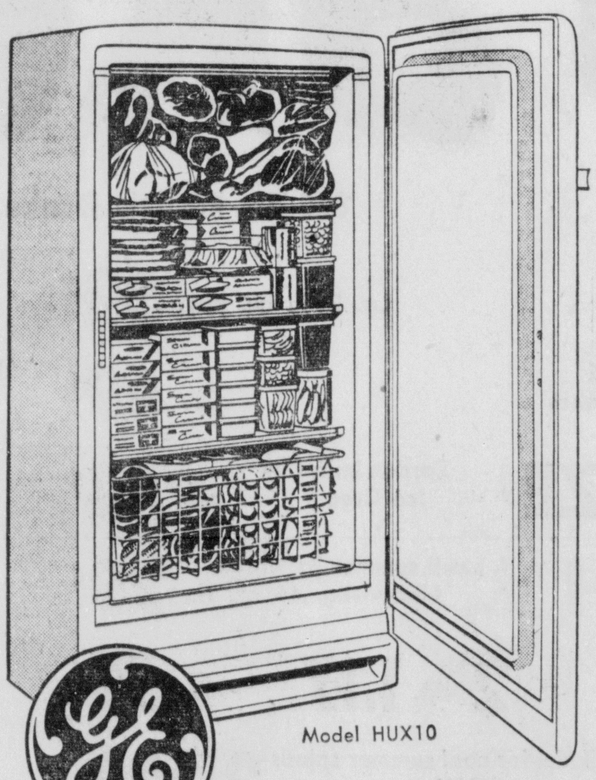

The organization, known as the "fun and honor" society of the American Legion, is in town for the two-day 41st Legion state convention this weekend. Its name comes from the French railroad box cars that supposedly could carry 40 men or eight horses.

Composer Johann Sebastian Bach made a 200-mile journey by foot to hear a concert by Swedish organist Dietrich Buxtehude.

A NEW USE FOR HOBBY HORSE

Micky (left) and Ricky Clausen, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Clausen of Hayward, demonstrate how they used hobby horse to unlatch door so they could take a 3 a.m. stroll while their parents slept. The 23-month-old twins had strolled before, so this time it was necessary to climb on the horse to release the chain the father had placed five-and-one-half feet up on the front door. With the aid of police, neighbors and a barking dog, the youngsters were returned to their sleeping parents. (AP Wirephoto)

Marin School Volumes Will Cost $15,084

One thousand copies of the new "Course of Study" for Marin schools will be published by Sept. 1 at a cost of $15,084, the Marin County Board of Education decided last night.

Edwin L. Blackmore, administrative assistant to the superintendent, reported that the first volume, for grades kindergarten through second grade, can be completed by Sept. 1. Normal delivery date for Volume 2 (for third through fifth grades) is Sept. 15, and Volume 3 (sixth through eighth) is Oct. 31. This would cost a total of $11,284.

But if the printer, R. G. Fontana and Son of San Anselmo, is to work overtime to deliver all three volumes by Sept. 1, the cost would be $15,084.

Dr. Hollis said he has some reservations on whether the extra cost would be justified by the earlier delivery date. However, since he has been asked to push the printing of the course of study, he cannot but recommend that the volumes be delivered in time for school opening, he said.

The board of education decided to spend the full $15,084 to get delivery by Sept. 1, but stressed it wants a guarantee from the printer that the deadline would be met.

Last night's meeting was held on the front lawn of the school superintendent's office because of hot weather.

In other action, the board:

1. Appointed Henry E. Tomasini as Nicasio School trustee to succeed Charles C. Morrison, who is moving out of the district.

2. Approved temporary teaching certificates for Ernest Louis Caillat Jr. and Janylee DeBoer of San Rafael so they can start teaching summer school this year.

3. Approved a leave of absence for Clarence Spencer, director of audio-visual education, to teach at San Diego State College from July 29 to Aug. 7.

4. Approved teaching of typing to seventh and eighth graders during summer school this year.

Vandals Hit Ross School

Vandalism at Ross Grammar School was discovered at 7:30 a.m. yesterday when custodians came to open the building.

A door had been removed from a sixth grade classroom and damaged. Screw-driver marks and several hinge pins missing from the door of Supt. Stephen L. Parodi indicated an attempt had been made to remove his door, three fire extinguishers were dumped on the hall floor, and part of a new shipment of books was strewn in the hall, reported Asst. Police Chief L. E. Flowers.

All was in order when the custodians locked the school building about 5 p.m. Monday. Entry was made by removing a metal bar at the window of a boys' lavatory on the northwest end of the buildin, Asst. Chief Flowers said. The incident was still under investigation today.

REVIEWS GENEVA SESSION—Secretary of State Christian Herter poses before the microphone just prior to his radio and television report to the nation on the six weeks foreign ministers meeting in Geneva (AP Wirephoto)

Congress Supports Herter In Berlin Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter's stand against yielding the freedom of West Berlin found overwhelming support in Congress today.

U. S. diplomats hoped the evidence of solid congressional backing in both parties would help impress in Communist minds the need for a change in Moscow's policy if there is ever to be a peaceful solution to the German crisis.

Herter spoke grimly last night in reporting to the American people on the six weeks of deadlock at the Geneva foreign ministers conference on Germany. The negotiations recessed last Saturday until July 13.

In a 15-minute radio-TV speech, the American foreign affairs chief called on the Soviets to abandon their drive "to add more than two million free West Berliners to the captive peoples of Eastern Europe."

"This is the critical question," he said. "If the Soviets do not hold to this annexationist design, we should be able to reach agreements on Berlin consistent with the honor and interest of all our countries."

RED DEMANDS

The Reds touched off the crisis by demanding an end to the post-war Allied occupation of West Berlin. Britain, France and the United States refused to pull out of the Communist-encircled city without an arrangement for its freedom. The Soviets rejected all Western offers.

Herter linked West Berlin's freedom to America's own. "When their freedom is diminished, our freedom is inevitably diminished," he said.

CONGRESS REACTION

He won widespread backing from congressmen.

The assistant Democratic leader of the Senate, Mike Mansfield of Montana, voiced hope that "with the straightforward, hard hitting speech by Secretary Herter, Khrushchev will take the hint and start working in diplomatic privacy toward some solid proposals to be offered when the foreign ministers talks are resumed at Geneva."

The Republican leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said the American people "will applaud the courage, resolution and firmness of Secretary Herter in his determination to stand up for the liberties of the people of West Berlin."

Senate Unit Would Open Up Payrolls

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rules Committee voted today in favor of making senators' office payrolls public.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), leaving a closed-door meeting of the committee, told newsmen the action was taken without objection.

The committee action will put the question up to the Senate.

Keating said the measure approved by the committee would require the secretary of the Senate to publish four times a year the names and salaries of all Senate employees.

The American Society of Newspaper Editors petitioned the Senate earlier to open to public inspection the record of salaries paid by senators to their employees.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Floods Hit Canton

TOKYO (AP) — Flood waters converged today on the South China metropolis of Canton. The floods in Kwangtung province already had caused the death of at least 187 persons and made 200,000 homeless.

Flood crests of the North and West rivers were expected to strike Canton—a city of a million and a half people—with devasting force sometime today, Peiping news reports said.

The danger was heightened by new torrential rains which lashed the North River yesterday. Two million men worked with picks, shovels, bales and sandbags to save Canton.

Satchmo Improves

SPOLETO, Italy (AP) — Louis Armstrong, stricken by a pneumonia attack, was reported much improved today after resting well through the night.

One of the great jazz musician's doctors said he expects his patient to leave the hospital in a few days.

Armstrong, who will be 59 on July 4, was stricken early yesterday. Doctors first thought he had a heart attack because he complained of chest pains.

MM Recovering

NEW YORK (AP)—Film star Marilyn Monroe was reported in excellent condition today after an operation. She is expected to leave the hospital Friday.

The nature of the operation was not disclosed. The surgeon was a gynecologist, Dr. Mortimer Rodgers.

He said "There was no evidence of pregnancy. She had not been feeling well for a couple of days prior to coming in here."

Her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, said the surgery was of a corrective nature.

Miller and Marilyn both have expressed a desire to have children. She has had two miscarriages since their marriage.

Satellite Try Delayed

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — An attempt to launch the Discoverer IV satellite rocket was postponed yesterday because of technical problems in range communications. There was no indication when the shot will be re-scheduled, but past delays have invariably been for at least 48 hours.

B52 Crashes

BURNS, Ore. (AP)—A B52 jet bomber on an experimental low-level flight for the Strategic Air Command crashed in flames yesterday. The five men aboard were killed.

Witnesses said the eight-jet plane caught fire and was enveloped in flames when it crashed in a remote area 35 miles east of this central Oregon town.

Woman Dies At 109

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Prajades Castillo died at her El Paso home yesterday. She was 109.

9 Governors In Paris

PARIS (AP) — Nine American governors en route to Moscow for a 24-day tour of the Soviet Union, landed in Paris today for a brief sightseeing tour.

The governors are Leroy Collins of Florida, George D. Clyde of Utah, John E. Davis of North Dakota, Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina, Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, Stephen L. R. McNichols of Colorado, Robert H. Smylie of Idaho, William G. Stratton of Illinois and Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia.

Drug 'Bullets' For Dogs

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A gun that shoots tranquilizer pellets instead of bullets is being used in this city's anti-rabies drive against wild and stray dogs.

Fourteen dogs have been been knocked out so far with the hypodermic-like pellets by four hunters. The dogs were turned over to the dog pound, which estimates the city has about 40,000 unvaccinated dogs.

Bandit 'Sick' At Holdup

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"Every time I do this I get sick inside," a young bandit explained to Irene Solomon. He and a companion robbed her of $67 in her home yesterday.

"I have to do it to dress well," insisted the bandit, who wore a brown pork pie hat, an Ivy League dark gray suit, an olive green sports shirt, a yellow sweater and argyle sox.

"Why don't you go to a psychiatrist?" retorted Mrs. Solomon—whose husband is one.

Irish Party Elects

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Sean LeMass took over the reins of Ireland's government today from Eamon De Valera.

LeMass, deputy prime minister and minister for industry and commerce for the past 14 years, was elected by the Dail yesterday by a vote of 71-51. LeMass has succeeded De Valera as head of the Fianna Fail Party, which holds 78 of the 147 Dail seats. De Valera will be inaugurated tomorrow as president of the Irish Republic, a ceremonial post.

Jetliner In Bomb Hoax

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A New York-bound jet airliner with 107 passengers aboard was forced to return to Los Angeles International Airport last night because of a bomb scare.

A ticket agent said a woman phoned moments after the liner took off and warned him that her husband had placed an incendiary bomb "in the body of the plane." The TWA jet was ordered back to the field. Nothing was found.

12th Juror Asleep

BURY ST. EDMUNDS, England (UPI)—Eleven jurors filed out of the box at West Suffolk Quarter Sessions Court. The twelfth was asleep.

After being awakened, the juror insisted he had heard all the evidence and hastened to join his colleagues. Judge Gerald Howard said he didn't know whether the juror was "overcome by the heat, or by what I had to say."

Rebels Mount Big Attack In Algeria

ALGIERS (AP) — Algerian rebels thrust a determined column of uniformed soldiers into the outskirts of Bone today in their first military assault on a major Algerian city.

The attack before dawn brought on a stand-up battle with thousands of French soldiers, armored units and planes, which was still raging at noon, eight hours after it started.

Unofficial estimates said 38 French soldiers were killed or wounded. There was no word as to rebel losses.

The rebel group had overrun two French army posts and was infiltrating the east Algerian city before the French recovered from their surprise. Then warplanes swooped on the rebels with strafing runs and incendiary bombs.

Unofficial sources at Bone said the rebel troops might number no more than 100, but they were heavily armed and apparently were under orders to penetrate into Bone itself.

The rebel attack began at 4 a.m. The rebels took positions in orchards and homes between the Bone airport and the Mediterranean. Shortly after, the blast of grenades and machine gun fire awakened the city of 80,000.

At 10 a.m., French headquarters in Algiers said the battle was continuing. All communications with Bone were under tight military control.

LUNG CANCER NOW

Boy Who Lost Eyes Faces New Threat

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Mike Sibole, the little boy who lost his eyes in a fight against cancer, faces the possibility of new pain.

Doctors at Miami Cancer Institute say they have found strong evidence cancer cells may have moved into his lungs.

Mike, now 7, is unaware of the new threat. He only knows of periodic brushings of his throat and that he must take shots at the institute.

These, he believes, are to "build him up" for a vacation camping trip with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. James Sibole, and his brother, Jerry, 4.

In 1954, the parents agreed to the first eye removal; in 1956, they agreed to the second. Without the operations, specialists said, the cancer would have moved into the lad's brain and brought death.

"We have done all we can," Sibole said yesterday. "We can now only hope—and pray. In the meantime, we want to give Mike all of the happiness we can. He's really looking forward to this camping trip."

Dominican Republic Claims Invasion Force Wiped Out

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Trujillo government claims it has wiped out a Cuban-supported invasion force near the Dominican Republic's north coast and killed its leader.

An announcement said Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, 68, who has ruled this country for 29 years, directed land, air and sea operations against the invaders last week in the Constanza area 180 miles northwest of Ciudad Trujillo.

It was the first official confirmation of reports from Dominican exiles in Cuba and Venezuela that an invasion force had landed last week. But the versions of the government and the exiles differed widely.

The government announcement said Capt. Enrique Jimenez Moya, described by the exiles as the expedition leader, was killed as he tried to escape. It identified six other bodies among the rebel dead, but did not list the total casualties or the size of the invasion force.

Reliable informants in the Haitian capital of Port-au-Prince said the landing was made Saturday by a force of about 600. They said Dominican forces apparently gained the upper hand after 48 hours of bloody fighting.

AERIAL LIFE-SAVERS — This photo shows three components which combined to save life of Air Force pilot earlier this month: (1) is wooden mock-up of plane's ejection seat, (2) is parachute, and (3) is survival kit manufactured by H. Koch and Sons of Corte Madera. Pilot credited an identical kit with saving him.

PLUCKED FROM SEA

Marin-Made Survival Kit Saves Airman

By WILLIAM L. EARLE

An Air Force survival kit manufactured in Marin County has been credited with saving the life of a pilot who bailed out of a flaming jet fighter off the Atlantic coast June 9.

The credit was given by the pilot himself, 1st Lt. Edward E. Parsons of Payette, Ida.

Parsons was plucked from the ocean at dawn after drifting for more than seven hours off the south shore of Long Island in a tiny rubber raft. Air Force doctors pronounced him in "excellent" condition.

The inflatable raft was part of the survival gear stowed in a kit manufactured by H. Koch and Sons of Corte Madera.

IN 2,500 PLANES

Koch survival kits, used in about 2,500 operating aircraft, are packed in almost-square Fiberglas containers. The kit is fastened to the seat of the pilot's parachute harness.

Lieutenant Parsons pulled a harness release handle to detach the kit from the parachute as he was ejected from the burning F102A Delta Dagger. During his descent, he jettisoned the kit by pulling an emergency handle.

The kit container dangled 25 feet below him, securely attached to a nylon lanyard. Midway up the lanyard hung the one-man life raft, which was displaced from the container and inflated on the way down.

READY IMMEDIATELY

When Parsons hit the water, the raft was ready for immediate use. With a few pulls on the lanyard, he had the basic container of his survival kit safely aboard.

Among the items snugly packed in the waterproof kit were flares, dye marker, mirrors for signaling by using the sun's rays, a flashlight, a knife, emergency rations, first-aid supplies and shark repellant.

Another pilot in Parsons' squadron saw him bail out and watched the jet crash in flames. Within minutes, the Air Force, Coast Guard and civilian agencies organized an air-sea rescue operation.

Rescuers were hampered by a haze which settled over the 1,500-mile search area, but at 5:35 a.m. a Coast Guard helicopter crew spotted a flare and the yellow dye which Parsons had released from his raft. He was taken aboard the 'copter and flown to Suffolk Air Force Base.

Koch officials are pleased with the performance of their survival kit under actual emergency conditions. They run exhaustive tests of the product at the Corte Madera plant, including one from a 40-foot tower to simulate jettisoning of the kit during parachute descent.

Besides the F102A, Koch kits are used in the Republic F105, the North American K15 experimental plane, the Convair F106, TF102 and B58 and the "Melpar," an experimental craft manufactured by a firm of the same name.

The Koch firm also makes Figerglas luggage and conventional aviation luggage.

July 4 Fete Readied At Stinson Beach

Labeled "a fun affair for young and old," the Stinson Beach Fourth of July celebration is readied and set to go, according to the general committee in charge.

The carnival is returning to Stinson Beach after an absence of several years. It had been a successful venture for eight years, but was discontinued when the state took over the old county park.

Games, refreshments and carnival attractions are promised. Proceeds will go to the chapel building fund of the community center.

Members of the general committee are Joe Bordanaro, Walker Crimmings, Paul Dittma, Alvin Eustis and Lester Sadler.

Sleepy Hollow Board To Study Fire Budget

Commissioners of the Sleepy Hollow Fire Protection District will take a look at the district's 1959-60 budget tomorrow night when they meet at 8 o'clock at the Sleepy Hollow clubhouse. Ralph B. Rogers, secretary of the three-man board, said the budget total may be slightly higher than that of the current fiscal year but that the tax rate may remain at this year's level, 74 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Views And Real Estate Values

Here's a thought worth considering, written by a prominent American. Read carefully.

"A moment's reflection must convince you of two things. First, that lands are of permanent value; that there is scarcely a possibility of their falling in price, but almost a moral certainty of their rising exceedingly in value.

"And secondly, that our currency is fluctuating, that it has depreciated considerably, and that no human foresight can, with precision, tell how low it may get, as the rise or fall of it depends upon contingencies which the utmost stretch of human sagacity can neither forsee nor prevent."

Ray Kopf

The unmistakable conclusion: "Buy Land."

Since this famous American so aptly describes the present "plight of the dollar" you may imagine he is one of our contemporaries. Actually, however, these words were quoted from a letter written by George Washington! The "Father of Our Country" is still able to give sound advice: "Buy Land."

Let us help you find a sound real estate invesment—whether it be a home, farm, or commercial property. Wm. E. Doud & Co., 25 E. Blithedale, Mill Valley, DU 8-8494. Multiple Listing Service.

Public Hearing Set On Bond Issue For Recreation In Terra Linda

A first step was taken last night to place Terra Linda's proposed $350,000 bond issue for recreation facilities before its voters on Aug. 25.

Four directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District voted unanimously to hold a public hearing on the bond issue proposal on July 7 at 8 p.m. at Bernard Hoffman School.

The district's recreation committee had asked that plans be prepared for a large L-shaped swimming pool, a youngsters' wading pool, a play area and a new community building.

First showing of architects' plans is set for the July 21 meeting of the community services district directors.

The architects are Royston, Hanamoto and Mayes, and Malone and Hooper, both San Francisco firms.

Two sites of three acres each will be used, said John P. Namle, president of the board.

"We tried desperately to buy land just outside of Terra Linda (northwest side) but the cost was prohibitive. They were asking $40,000 to $110,000 for two sites we were looking at," Namle said. The two sites which directors decided to use are owned by the district already. One is in Terra Linda Oaks, the other is the site of the present community building and firehouse.

A $10,000 project to complete the Terra Linda firehouse and install a room where one fireman can sleep at night will be financed out of the district's tax rate, Namle said.

One dollar per $100 assessed valuation is the current tax rate. The district's proposed 1959-60 budget could be financed by a tax rate of 92 cents, Namle said. Action on the budget will be taken within the next month.

Director Elmer Johnson was absent from last night's meeting.

Colorado has a new state law for the aged which guarantees the state's pensioners $100 a month, plus hospitalization and nursing home costs.

Hub Trustees Favor Budget Of $726,700

Trustees of the San Anselmo School District last night adopted a tentative $726,700 budget for the 1959-60 fiscal year, and set up a higher schedule of teachers' salaries.

The budget is subject to review by the county superintendent of schools office and will be returned to the trustees for public hearings and final adoption in August.

The district's five-class, 10-step teacher salary schedule was changed from a minimum and maximum of $4,400 and $7,000 a year to $4,600 and $8,000 a year.

RAISE FOR PRINCIPALS

The trustees also approved a $700 a year raise for the four principals in the district, and voted to place the school nurse on the teachers' salary schedule.

It was also decided that the San Anselmo district, which last year paid 50 per cent of the cost of administering the confederated schools, this coming year will pay 40 per cent, and the Fairfax and Kentfield districts will pay 30 per cent each.

At the same time, taking recognition of the fact that the federation will go out of existence July 1, 1960, the trustees asked Supt. Harold De Pue to contact the County Committee on District Organization for study of the proposed unification of the Fairfax, San Anselmo, Lagunitas and Nicasio districts. Trustees of the Fairfax and the Lagunitas districts have approved the plan.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the San Anselmo trustees:

1. Approved a plan for teaching mentally retarded children to operate in the district under aegis of the county superintendent if and when other school districts approve the plan.
2. Approved a $1,440 recreation expenditure at Sleepy Hollow School. Of the six schools in the district, four are within the city of San Anselmo, and the city provides recreation funds for three of these schools.
3. Approved H. N. Christenson of San Anselmo as insurance carrier, at a yearly premium of $1,924.25, for general comprehensive and property damage insurance, and delayed to July 8 awarding a fire insurance contract.

Did Shark Kill Man Off Marin?

Shark sightings off the Marin coast raises speculation that the Napa banker who vanished off Dillon's Beach on June 13 may have been snapped out of sight by a man-eater shark.

There is no evidence of such an attack on Thomas McNeil, 23, who vanished while wading along a sand bank, Deputy Sheriff William S. Christensen pointed out. But he added that such an attack is not impossible, especially because McNeil was described as a good swimmer.

McNeil's companion, Ron Richard Hunter, 21, of Napa, told officers the two were wading about waist high, and suddenly reached a hole in the surf. Hunter swam back but McNeil vanished without a sound.

Two skin divers from the sheriff's underwater rescue unit searched the area without success.

Deputy Christensen recalled that about four or five years ago he dragged the body of Claude Otto Jahne, 35, a drowning victim, out of the bottom of Limantour Bay. He was towing the body and rowing to shore when a dorsal fin rose 14 inches above the water.

Suddenly the row boat came to a shuddering stop as the shark attacked the body, Christensen recalls. A second shark later appeared, but no more attacks were made.

Proposal To Beautify Lytton Square Urged

A plan to beautify Lytton Square was recommended by the Mill Valley Planning Commission last night. It was forwarded to the city council.

Submitted by Sam Newsom, operator of the Greenwood Tree, the plan is for a planted strip 12 feet wide and 100 feet long with the present flagpole at the center.

Newsom suggested redwoods be planted along the area with wild lilac.

Planners estimated cost of removing pavement, erecting a curb and providing soil at $1,000. Merchants have indicated willingness to finance planting.

Planner also approved the First Baptist Church's planned addition.

Lutherans Adopt Resolution On Doctrinal Conformity

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod directs that all its pastors, teachers and professors teach and act in harmony with a statement of doctrine drafted by the church in 1932.

A Brooklyn, N.Y., pastor protested against the resolution decreeing doctrinal conformity before it was adopted by voice vote yesterday at the synod convention.

Martin Luther himself changed his mind more than once "because he realized he could be wrong," declared Rev. Robert J. Riedel. "We might be wrong."

The pastor argued there was no need for doctrinal statements to "protect brothers from each other."

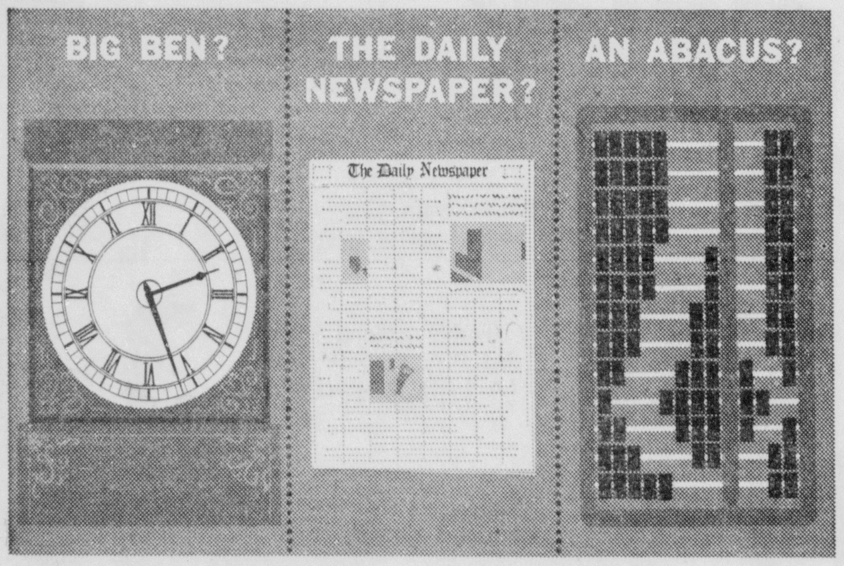

The convention approved a resolution declaring the 8,000-word statement adopted in 1932 is the church's public doctrine.

Preachers, teachers and professors are free to make known any differences before church bodies. But any attempt to teach or preach these differences publicly would risk dismissal.

In 1932 doctrine rejects the evolutionary theory of man's origin. It also holds against a theocratic state, secular church and "millenialism" theories predicting spectacular changes in the world before "the general resurrection on judgment day."

Advocated are doctrines of the Trinity, original sin and man's total depravity.

Chevy Gives You Smarter Style Today...

Don't take it from us—take it from independent experts and from facts and figures that are now a matter of record. POPULAR SCIENCE sums up Chevy's unmistakably modern style this way: "The fact is, in its price class Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." This is one more reason your new Chevrolet will bring a higher allowance at trade-in time, as Chevy has over the years. A look at last year's used car prices* shows Chevrolet averaged up to $128 more than comparable models of the other leading low-priced two.

*Based on official Guide Book figures of the National Automobile Dealers Association.

PLUS 5 MORE BIG BESTS OVER ANY OTHER CAR IN CHEVROLET'S FIELD!

Best Brakes. Chevy showed the best brakes of the leading low-priced three in repeated highway speed stopping tests conducted by NASCAR.* And no wonder. Chevrolet's brakes, built for up to two-thirds longer lining life, are the biggest in the low-price field.

*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research.

Best Engine. Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard passenger car and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price."

Best Economy. No doubt about this: a pair of Chevrolet sixes came in first and second in their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run—getting the best mileage of any full-size car.

Best Room. Official dimensions reported to the Automobile Manufacturers Association make it clear. Chevy's front seat hip room, for example, is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

Best Ride. A few minutes behind the wheel will leave no doubt about this. MOTOR TREND magazine sums it up this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

NO WONDER MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS IN '59 THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

Gate Bridge Users Shouldn't Have To Pay For Highway

In the closing hours of the late lamented legislative session, Marin Senator John F. McCarthy attempted to cancel a $5,000,000 debt of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

The senator attempted to amend a minor bill about the debt in such a manner that the sum would be paid off by gas tax funds instead of from bridge tolls.

In his own words, he "got caught." He had to admit trying to pull a fast one, erase preliminary steps he had taken, and forget the whole thing.

But his action has brought to the fore again the facts of the $5,000,000 loan and what it was used for. These are interesting facts and ones we shouldn't lose sight of.

McCarthy attempted to eliminate the debt by a legislative maneuver which didn't do real justice to the case bridge district residents have. There are specific and cogent arguments as to why the debt should be cancelled. Here's the situation:

A few years back the old four-lane Waldo Grade highway was a death trap. The Division of Highways and particularly the commuters were concerned about it. But the division said, we haven't got any money to fix it.

Along came the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District asking what can we do to help?

Loan us $5,000,000 and we'll raise the rest, said the division—another 3½ million, as we remember it.

But we haven't got that much without a hat on it, answered the bridge directors.

Then why don't you borrow it? asked the highway boys. We won't be able to get on with the job of freewaying to San Rafael unless you do.

So the bridge board went to the state, borrowed $5,000,000, at 2 per cent interest, and promised to pay it back in 1972 after the bridge bonds are retired. Then they gave the five million to the highway boys and said, go ahead with the job.

We'll have to admit the division did go ahead with the job and has kept on going. But we as bridge users seriously object to supporting the Waldo Grade as a toll road. That actually is what happened. Now, when you ride Waldo you must put aside part of your bridge toll to pay the interest and accumulate the principal for a five million dollar loan.

This is not equitable. There are no toll roads in the huge freeway system of Los Angeles. The approaches to the Bay Bridge are paid from gas tax funds. We already are paying extra in bridge tolls by running our own bridge and not getting gas tax funds to maintain it. All the other bridges get these funds.

We can't see how in equity the state can require the Gate bridge users to pay for the highway too. We think that the state should cancel that debt, being happy with the interest it already has received.

The State Highway Commission long ago adopted a policy of building state highways from gas tax funds, rejecting the idea of toll roads.

They shouldn't make us the horrible exception.

No Leniency For Drunken Drivers!

The Independent-Journal welcomes letters but reserves the right to condense or edit out salacious material.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the hopes of arousing public opinion against leniency for drunken drivers, may I call your attention to my own experience:

A drunken driver nearly killed me on the night of June 6 — and my husband — and the lady with a child in the car ahead of us.

He nearly orphaned our children. It was only by the grace of God that all of us were not lying dead on the road.

This man was on the wrong side of the cement-divided Highway 101 near Richardson Bridge; he approached head-on, hit us and damaged the full length of the car, and went on.

Officers of the California Highway Patrol apprehended him farther up the road and advised us that he would be cited under sections 502, drunken driving, and 481, hit-and-run of the Californai Vehicle Code. The circumstances of this accident were filed.

I respectfully submit that an automobile in the hands of an incompetant is a lethal weapon; that a drunken driver is not alone incompetant, but also a menace; that in this case, my life and that of my husband was threatened, endangered and only by good fortune not snuffed out by this man.

It is presumed that the Judge was in full possession of the facts so that the leniency of the sentence imposed is beyond understanding. — "must pay a $200 fine and not drive for 90 days"—Independent-Journal, June 16th!!

I was horrified to find that the charge of hit-and-run driving was dropped "in the interests of justice" since it was included in the more serious charge of drunk-driving to which he pleaded guilty. Furthermore, this procedure is common practice I am informed by authoritative sources.

Technically then, on the 91st day, this man can get his license back, and with it, the possibility of repeating his performance, another time perhaps injuring, maiming or killing somebody else. Property damage to our car was computed, but nervous-system damage to us due to shock and subsequent fear at the hands of this man cannot be measured.

Why shouldn't the penalty for such offenders be jail sentences and permanent revocation of license?

Secret Of Successful Tipping: Make It A Game For Everyone

NEW YORK (AP) — Many people who go abroad say their trip is ruined because they don't know how to tip properly.

"I don't want to slight anybody," they often say. "But I do want to come home solvent.."

Of course, with an attitude like that they are bound to get off on the wrong foot. Anybody whose primary interest is personal solvency has no business going abroad. He should stay home and hire a small trustworthy Boy Scout to count his money for him.

But tipping shouldn't be an ordeal. Once you get the hang of it, it even can become exciting.

The first problem, naturally, is whom to tip: In general the rule is the same in Europe as in the United States—you tip everybody who speaks to you and isn't a close relative.

There are certain exceptions, however, and nothing is more embarrassing than to tip the wrong persons.

Fortunately for the beginning traveler's peace of mind the exceptions are easy to learn.

In Britain you tip everything except museum statues and members of the Buckingham Palace Guard.

In France you tip museum statues but you don't tip Brigitte Bardot, members of the French Academy or gendarmes in the process of making an arrest — as they already have their hands full.

In Switzerland you tip everything that comes near you but doesn't have a bell around its neck or say "moo."

In Germany you tip everything that says "ja," which is pronounced "yah." If someone says "yeh," don't bother to tip him. He is probably an American soldier in civilian dress.

In Italy there are no exceptions. You tip everything that moves.

The safe rule in all countries is to tip every hand you see that is stretched toward you palm upward. Recently in Paris a tourist held his palm out to see if it was raining, and before he could get it back in his pocket other U.S. tourists, mistaking him for a native, had dropped $8.12 in it.

THE NEXT QUESTION is, "How much should you tip?" The answer here depends on another question: "How much have you got?"

It is wrong and unfair to think every European is out to rob you, or that he regards every American as a millionaire.

He is more likely to regard you as a human slot machine. He is reasonable. He doesn't expect to hit the jackpot every time he plays a slot machine.

Half of what he thinks you have will generally satisfy him.

The thing to do is to buy a dozen cheap, shabby wallets and divide among them equally all the tipping money you can afford for that day.

WHEN IT BECOMES necessary to tip anyone, you simply fish out one of the wallets and hand it over to the person you are tipping. He will go through it carefully, take out exactly half, then smile and hand the wallet back to you.

If you put a photo of your dear old gray-haired mother in the wallet, he may even only take a fourth.

The tip he gets may be either more or less than he expected, but in any case he will be satisfied. He will think you are a game sport about the whole matter.

That's the whole secret of successful tipping—you make a game of it for everyone concerned.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

An Assembly-approved bill making $5,000,000 available for building a new Marin County approach highway to the Golden Gate Bridge was revived in the state Senate. New legislation was required to make the money provided in a 1945 loan available for use.

20 YEARS AGO

Fritz Kuhn, national leader of the German-American Bund, was booked in New York on charges of forgery and grand larceny.

Announcement was made that John Sidener would assume the principalship of Tomales Union High School in the fall term.

Governor Rolled Up Formidable Number Of Victories In Legislature

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — While Gov. Edmund G. Brown didn't ring up a perfect score with the 1959 Legislature, nevertheless he rang the bell enough times to chalk up a formidable advantage of victories and firmly establish his leadership in California.

Referring to the governor's inaugural address six months ago, his first goal was a fair employment practices act, voted early in the session.

Next, he suggested a consumer counsel to "protect" the public. This, too, was enacted into law, to establish one more bureaucracy in state government.

HIS PROGRAM for encouragement of economic development was approved, but his fourth objective, a labor bill proposed as a substitute for a right-to-work law defeated by the voters, was rejected by the Legislature.

Some increases in social insurance of various types were approved, but the Senate Labor Committee killed off the governor's proposal for a minimum wage of $1.25 per hour, after strong opposition was voiced by agriculture.

His seventh request was for election reform, and the Legislature abolished cross-filing at primary elections.

NO BILLS OF consequence were introduced to promulgate the governor's eighth objective, which was to "promote efficiency in government." In January, the governor called attention to the fact that no penetrating analysis of state government has been made since 1928, and said the time has come to modernize state government and improve its services to the people. But no business-like survey was requested of the Legislature.

Some tightening up of laws on crime and narcotics was effected and the governor sponsored and won a program for establishment of conservation camps for convicts.

His tenth challenge was to improve the quality of education in California and outside of obtaining increases of some $24 million for the schools, the Legislature has done little or nothing along this line.

HE ASKED FOR protection of public health through advancement of smog control, but the Legislature decided to continue study of auto exhaust control devices.

Finally, the governor asked for improvement in the administration of justice. One of the principal items suggested was establishment of a commission to handle automobile accident cases and thus help break up a log-jam in the courts. No bills on this subject were introduced.

In his tax increase program, the governor also rolled up a high score. Out of eight new and increased taxes suggested, he won the battle on seven. Only loss was that of the oil severance tax, which he was unable to steam-roller through the Legislature.

HE INCREASED the income tax, inheritance tax, bank and corporation franchise tax, advanced collection date on insurance tax, horse racing tax, imposed a cigarette tax but lost a tax on cigars and tobacco, and obtained a portion of the amount he requested on beer.

Thus, the governor asked for a total of $256 million in new and increased taxes, and obtained from the Legislature approximately $232 million, which is not a bad score at all.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Shortly after he moved out of the White House, Calvin Coolidge sought rest and recreation at a famous resort hotel. He was pleased with the service and surroundings, but appalled by thet bill at the end of his first week.

Seeking the cashier for an explanation of some items on the bill, he recalled some unmailed letters in his pocket "I'll need some two cent stamps," he told the cashier's assistant. "Sure thing, Mr. President," said the clerk cheerily. "How many do you want?"

"That depends," said Mr. Coolidge cautiously, "on what you charge for them here."

George De Witt explains the difference between an after-dinner speaker and a toastmaster: "An after-dinner speaker makes a speech when there's half a grapefruit on the table, whereas a toastmaster won't orate unless the half grapefruit has a maraschino cherry in the center."

Free Movies Every Saturday For Children Of Novato Area

The summer vacation months can slip by like a wink for the youngster who may be traveling through Europe with his sight-seeing parents. But for many, there are days that creep like the snail.

Fifteen businessmen in Novato have taken a step to help enliven the upcoming vacation days.

It shouldn't meet with too much opposition from the out-of-school kids, or from their harried parents, either.

The group is sponsoring free, two-hour-long kiddie shows at the Novato Theater at 10:30 every Saturday until school resumes. Shown will be special cartoons and surprise features, promises movie house proprietor Don Donahue.

Back in '57 a similar offer was made, recalls Don. Then 7,700 came to watch the flickers over a 13-week period.

FROM ALL indications, Novato Horsemen, Inc. and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Donald V. Westlund post, scored a big hit with their rodeo last Sunday.

Frank Scott, president of the Horsemen, predicted earlier that the rough-riding spectacle would attract far more people than had the more sedate horse show of previous years. He was right.

For us city slickers who viewed the wild-west show, it seemed like a lot of mighty fascinatin' jumpin' and hollerin.' But it was a lot more.

A close look at the Rodeo Cowboy Assn. rules followed by the cowpokes has given us a new respect for the rough and tumble sport.

If, for instance, you're thinking of entering the saddle bronc riding event at next year's rodeo, bear in mind the following:

"Riding to be done with plain halter, one rein and saddle; riding rein and hand must be on same side; after the horse leaves the starting place it must be spurred first jump out, high in the shoulders, and rider must continue to spur throughout the ride to satisfcation of judges; one arm must be free at all times."

It's probably as simple as driving a car once you get the hang of it. You first, pardner.

SO FAR WE'RE unable to find the rules for the event entered Sunday by Novato Fire Chief George Cavallero and Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce President George Harrison and the other hapless gents—Sam Thomas. Keith Craig and Dave Crandall—who were led into the ring to face some frisky calves.

The spectators who cheered the unlikely contestants in their efforts to tackle the hefty critters, weren't told, however, that the five brave Novatans didn't know what was in store for them until the minute they walked into the arena.

NOVATO SCHOOL District trustees are still beside themselves with the problem of just how to cope with the situation at the newly installed track and field area at Novato High School.

There lies temptation for the wayward hot rods and the equestrian travelers. The cars ease over the curb. The horses just step over it. The result is that common traffic develops to the detriment of the athletic area and to the growing consternation of the trustees and administrators. Last week they pooled their imaginations in a gallant effort to find a solution short of the costly one of erecting a chain-link fence.

"How about raising the curb a few inches?" was one suggestion. "Horses could leap it," was the answer.

"A well-placed machine gun might be the answer then," quipped trustee Peter J. Ferrarese.

"Or a mounted patrol," suggested Supt. William J. J. Smith.

"Is there the possibility of putting spikes up?" offered another. "No, that would be a safety hazard," it was agreed.

"We might try a moat," chimed in business manager Eugene Debrecht.

"Yes," added trustee George Jennings—"with crocodiles."

With those helpful suggestions, district maintenance superintendent Clarence Vogensen was directed to study the problem some more and come up with an answer. Good luck, Clarence!

Case For Ending Nuclear Tests Strong But Care, Facts Needed

Letters from numerous readers show that there is at once a wide hope that agreement can be reached with Russia to end nuclear testing and a wide concern lest we accept an arrangement which does not provide dependable inspection.

The letters usually center on two points.

Some argue that those who favor an immediate ban on atmospheric tests only are insincere and really want to continue underground testing indefinitely.

Others say that those who raise doubts — as this column has done — that the Administration may be going too far, too fast toward an inadequate inspection system, are recklessly hurting the negotiations.

NEITHER OF THESE contentions seem to me well taken.

In the first place, they are self-contradictory. Since the Administration has itself advocated an immediate ban on atmospheric tests, you can't consistently attack the Administration for both going too far and not going far enough.

In the second place, I have not been arguing that the President may not have good reasons for accepting an aspect of inspection he at first critized: I am only saying that we are in the dark as to the President's reasons.

There is, indeed, a strong case for ending all tests by agreement. It is this:

RELATIVE RISKS—Just as there are some risks in ending tests — risks that some violations might go undetected — three are risks in allowing them to go on and on, reaching toward ever more destructive weapons. It is to a degree a choice of risks.

SPREADING ATOMIC WEAPONS — Most British, American, and Soviet leaders are fearful that unless a halt is soon called on testing, the possession of nuclear bombs will spread to more and more countries, even to some of the smaller countries — and then all hope of controlling such weapons will be lost.

BREACHING THE IRON CURTAIN—In the words of the President, "The concept of the open society is the ultimate key to a system of arms control we can all accept." He is saying in effect that if the Kremlin is prepared to pay the price of partly opening its society to the world to get an end to nuclear-weapons tests, it is in the interests of the U.S. to take some risks to bring it about.

TOWARD DISARMAMENT—If there is ever going to be an end to nuclear testing, a cut-off in nuclear weapons development would be as favorable to the U. S. now as at any time in the forseeable future. And while the stopping of testing is not a disarmament step, it could be a step toward arms control.

These are honest arguments and will, I believe, be persuasive with most Americans if they rest on one firm premise. That premise is that there be a reasonably secure, reasonably dependable method of inspecting any test-ban.

STANFORD DEAN SAYS:

Intellectual Gaining In Prestige In U. S.

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — American attitudes toward the egghead and intellectual endeavor are changing for the better, reports Dr. I. James Quillen of Stanford University.

"A new climate seems to be developing in the schools and colleges, in family living rooms, and in the public press and periodicals," Quillen told the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards yesterday.

Quillen, dean of the Stanford college of education, said:

"Literary classics in paperbacks are selling by the hundreds of thousands of copies. Interest in good music and art has been growing. The readers of quality magazines are increasing.

"And youths who win scholarships and science prizes are receiving community recognition and honor."

"This is all to the good," Quillen declared, "in a country where we have often been content to accept the mediocre, deride the intellectual and to reject, and at times even persecute, the original thinker."

Quillen told 1,000 conference delegates that criticism of education in this country was becoming more objective and balanced.

He said, however, that careless critics may be keeping potentially good teachers from entering the field, with one-sided views of teaching preparation, professional education and public school teaching.

"It would be more helpful at times," he said, "if some critics said what they thought was good as well as what they considered bad."

Floods Kill 12

CALCUTTA, India (AP)— Twelve people have been killed and about 100,000 left homeless by floods and a landslide in India's Assam state in the past six days, officials said today.

ANOTHER OLD BELIEF GOES DOWN DRAIN

ROCKLAND, Maine (AP)— authority on alcoholic studies says pouring black coffee into an intoxicated person or making him jog around the block won't sober him up.

"All that happens is that you have a wide-awake drunk on your hands, instead of a sleepy one," said Dr. Leon A. Greenberg, director of the Yale Center of Alcoholic Studies.

He spoke at a meeting of the Maine Medical Assn.

Rickenbacker Wants Credit For Additional War I Kill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, the America's leading ace of World War I, wants the record straight. He says he shot down 27 German planes instead of 26.

The Air Force said yesterday that Ricengacker, now 68 and head of Eastern Air Line, has asked that he be credited with "an additional aircraft" in that war more than 40 years ago.

"The matter will be studied by the Board of Correction of Military Records, which will make its recommendations to the secretary of the Air Force," the Air Force spokesman said.

The Air Force gave no details of Rickenbacker's request that his record be upped.

But a reliable source said a former adjutant of his squadron, now working in the Panama Canal Zone, had provided the Air Force with old records proving Rickenbacker had downed a 27th enemy plane in the last days of the war.

Compromise Housing Bill Faces Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—A catch-all $1,375,000,000 housing bill today faced the possibility of a veto it was tailored to avoid.

A cut-down compromise of larger Senate and House bills, it was trimmed to a two-year program in an avowed effort to make it veto-proof.

With 10 days to decide, President Eisenhower was keeping his own counsel about disposing of it, but congressional Republicans expected a veto. Both Budget Director Maurice H. Stans and Housing Administrator Norman P. Mason have indicated they would recommend rejection.

MARGIN OF PASSAGE

The bill was sent to the President yesterday by a 241-177 House vote. The margin of passage was nearly 40 votes short of the two-thirds vote necessary to override a veto. The 56-31 vote by which the Senate passed it Monday also fell short of a two-thirds margin.

A veto now, with Congress talking of adjournment in August, would probably mean another housing go-round ending in adoption of about what Republicans proposed when Congress convened Jan. 7.

FHA INSURANCE

This would renew the Federal Housing Administration's mortgage insurance authority, now almost exhausted; extend the college dormitory loan program, and continue on a limited basis the urban renewal and slum elimination program.

Some members feel this would be about the best Congress could expect to get if the President uses his veto power.

Although less in dollar amounts than the administration program, the bill nonetheless clearly exceeds spending rates proposed by Eisenhower.

URBAN RENEWAL

The compromise provides for a two-year urban renewal program totaling only 900 million dollars, for example, against a six-year $1,350,000,000 program asked by Eisenhower.

Spending for the two years, however, would be at the rate of 500 million the first year and 400 million the second, while Eisenhower's top recommendation for any one year was 250 million.

Schools In Marin Receive $202,944

Marin County school districts received a total of $202,944 in the second of two fund allocations by the state for fiscal 1958-59, it was announced Monday by Dr. Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction.

Elementary districts in Marin received $149,837; high schools received $53,107.

Simpson pointed out that the 1958-59 year was the first in six years during which the school enrollment did not grow as fast as had been expected. Enrollment grew by 187,610 over that for the preceding year, while the gain a year earlier was $198,137.

Hub Pigeons Win 400-Mile Race

Del Krelle, secretary of the Tamalpais Homing Pigeon Club, of San Anselmo, and his son, Bill, won first places recently with pigeons in a race from LaPine, Ore., to Marin.

Krelle's pigeon was entered as a member of the senior club, his son's as a member of the junior club.

Krelle's pigeon flew at about 39 miles an hour, a speed which Krelle said is slow, but the bird-faced extremely hot valley weather. The distance is about 400 air miles.

AP Scribe Picks Champ To Stop Swede In First Round

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson will knock out Sweden's Ingemar Johansson in the first round of an explosive, bloody battle at Yankee Stadium tomorrow night.

This is the prediction of the writer after a study of the two fighters in their training camps, deep research of their careers, a look at a crystal ball and a consultation with a witch doctor.

Johansson's only chance appears to rest with his "thunder and lightning" right hand. "Blood and thunder" is the way Edwin Ahlquist, Johansson's adviser, describes the mighty right and Ingemar, himself, appears to agree.

Ingo has kept the mighty right under wraps in training. There's not much question that he has the power in that fist, as evidence by his first-round knockout of Eddie Machen, then the No. 1 contender, at Goteborg, Sweden, last Sept. 14, and his fifth-round kayo of Britain's Henry Cooper at Stockholm, May 19, 1957.

Both Machen and Cooper, however, are standup fighters. Both box in the classic style Johansson is accustomed to. Neither does much body punching. Johansson, too, is a standup fighter who operates with an orthodox left jab and follows with straight right hands. In training, however, Ingo has shown nothing. He floundered like an amateur when he was pressed.

Patterson is completely different in his mode of fighting. The lithe, pantherish champion fights out of a crouch. He bobs and weaves, holding both gloves in front of his face in a peek-a-boo style. His forearms protect his body.

Floyd moves quickly from side to side. Once in a while he shifts to a left-handed stance. He is hard to hit squarely. True, he has been knocked down in title fights by Pete Rademacher and Roy Harris. But he got up quickly and fired away faster.

Floyd still leaps in with his gazelle right—a punch thrown while he springs into the air with a catlike motion. But most important of all is his devastating combinations, especially to the body.

The 24-year-old champion lets loose with hooking flurries of 10 to 12 punches at times. Those blurring-fast combinations to the body—something Ingo never has had to cope with—will be his undoing.

This observer believes Patterson will move right in on the unbeaten European champion seconds after the opening bell. He probably will bang away at the body to bring down Johansson's hands and then shoot for the head. He may get nailed in this all-out assault.

If he does, and goes down, the story could be different. I think Patterson will be too close to his opponent to get hit by such a punishing blow.

Patterson has won 16 of his last 17 fights by knockouts. He kayoed Archie Moore in five to win the title, and in his defense stopped Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson in 10, Rademacher in six, Harris in 12, and London in 11, last May 1.

There will be close to 1,000 writers in the eight press rows.

There is a definite upswing to the fight. Promoter Bill Rosensohn said his advance sale yesterday was $450,000 and he predicted a gate of over $600,000. He said he needs $500,000 to break even.

With prediction of fair weather for tomorrow night, the gate may even hit the $700,000 mark. Receipts from closed circuit TV, movies and radio may add an additional 1¼ million dollars to the gate.

Patterson still held as a 3½-1 favorite to win, and a 2-1 choice to score a knockout. It was 6-1 that Johansson would not knock out the champion.

STRONG ARM OF LAW—Pittsburgh ace right-ander Vern Law (left) chats with slugger Dick Stuart after they paced the Pirates to a 5-1 decision over the Giants last night. Law, former student of Fairfax Grammar School, pitched a six-hitter for his eighth win of the season. Stuart hit a home run and three singles. (AP Wirephoto)

Willie Fighting Another Slump; Avg. Dips To .310

Manager Bill Rigney has a theory on why Willie Mays is not hitting, but doesn't know how to snap the classy fielder out of the slump.

Rigney, who repeatedly muttered "No hits, no runs" as his San Francisco Giants lost to Pittsburgh 5-1 last night, says:

"Willie's lunging, not waiting for the ball. He gets in these slumps every year and then has a hell of a time fighting out."

Mays was hitless again in the last game and has connected only five times in his last 32 chances, dropping his average to .310. It was a nifty .327 before the slump started when he hurt his hip sliding home May 7 at Cincinnati.

Trying to snap the slump, Mays skipped batting practice, but that didn't help. The fielder points out he always was a streak hitter and says he has no answer either. Last season he ended up with a .347 average, second best in the league, despite a slump.

While the Giants were managing just five singles and a double in their loss to Pittsburgh, the Pirates were supporting pitcher Vern Law with 15 blows, including Dick Stuart's 14th homer.

FAIRFAX STUDENT

Law, enjoying his best season in the majors with eight victories and four losses, attended Fairfax Grammar School for two years in the early 1940s. He is a native of Idaho.

Rigney sent out Johnny Antonelli (10-4) to pitch today against Pittsburgh's Bob Friend (3-9).

Antonelli is 1-1 against Pittsburgh and Friend has no record against the Giants. He started against San Francisco June 11, but failed to finish a game the Pirates won for Elroy Face.

Having no problems whatsoever at the moment is Stuart, the San Carlos lad who was once known as a home run or strikeout king.

He had three singles along with his homer, raising his batting average to .318.

Stuart, in his second year in the majors, attributes his new hitting prowess to the age old adage of the slugger:

"Just try to meet the ball, don't try to kill it."

JONES LOSES

The Pirates sprayed 10 singles off loser Sam Jones, now 8-7, in his seven-inning stint. But all that hitting was good for only three runs.

The other two came in the ninth, on Stuart's homer off Billy Muffett and a run batted in double by Don Hoak off Gordon Jones.

The Giant loner came in the fourth when Jackie Brandt doubled home Daryl Spencer, who walked.

Rigney had Jack Sanford said he didn't know when the pitching batting practice, but righthander would be ready to start. He was hit on the hand by Friend June 11 at Pittsburgh.

Sanford has trouble throwing a curve ball, Rigney said.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Mantle, Ford (As Casey Had Predicted) Lead Yank Rise

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Casey's finally making his move—just as he said he would—and it must delight the old boy that he even called the turn on the two men who would help him do the moving.

The two, of course, are Mickey Mantle and Whitey Ford.

"We'll be all right," Casey Stengel told the worried Yankee brass when the club hit rock-bottom a month ago. "We'll be all right as soon as Mantle starts hitting again and I can get Ford to go nine."

So it certainly comes as no surprise to Stengel that his Yankees are back in the first division again, only two games away from the top, now that Mantle and Ford are beginning to click again.

MANTLE HOMERS

Mantle cracked out his third homer in two days last night and Ford turned in a nifty five-hitter to pace the Yanks to a 10-2 victory over the Athletics.

Mantle hit his 18th homer with one on in the first inning and it looked like a merry-go-round when Hank Bauer belted another homer with one on in the second inning and Gil McDougald homered with one on in the third.

That was more than enough for Ford, who posted his seventh victory and retired 19 men in a row after the A's scored their only two runs in the third inning.

CHISOX CLOSE IN

The White Sox climbed to within a game of first place with a 4-1 victory over the Senators; the Orioles moved to within a game-and-a-half of the top by beating the league-leading Indians, 5-1; and the Red Sox knocked the Tigers out of the first division with a 10-4 win.

In the National League, the Braves stretched their lead to two games by clipping the Cardinals, 9-5, while the Pirates licked the second-place Giants, 5-1. The Dodgers edged the Phillies, 4-3, and the Cubs topped the Reds, 3-1.

Early Wynn of the White Sox became the first A.L. pitcher to win 10 games when he halted the Senators on eight hits, one of which was Bob Allison's 19th homer. Earl Torgeson doubled home one run in the third, singled home another in the fifth and Sherm Lollar hit a two-run homer off loser Bill Fischer in the eighth.

CRANDALL STARS

Del Crandall was the big gun in Milwaukee's win over St. Louis, driving in four runs to help Carlton Willey to his third victory. Wes Covington also homered for the Braves while Ken Boyer connected for the Cards. Hal Jeffcoat was the loser.

The Dodgers mustered only five hits off Gene Conley of the Phillies, but three of them were home runs by Junior Gilliam, Gil Hodges and Don Demeter. Hodges' homer, his 11th of the season, was the 331st of his career and moved him to an 11th place tie with Hank Greenberg on the all-time home run list. Danny McDevitt hurled a seven-hitter to make his record 6-6. Conley now is 4-4.

Glen Hobbie of the Cubs scored his seventh victory in beating the Reds. The Cubs chased loser Joe Nuxhall in the fifth when they came up with two runs to break a 1-1 tie.

Four-Way Tie In M.V. Li'l League

All four teams in the Mill Valley American Little League have identical records of three wins and three losses so far in the second half of the two-round schedule.

The traffic jam was created last night when the Indians outdueled the Tigers in a 2-1, eight-inning thriller. Thus the Indians, Tigers, Braves and Eaglets all are in first place—or last place, whichever way you look at it.

In another Little League thriller in Mill Valley last night, the Realtors eked out a 6-5 edge over the Lions in seven innings.

Pro, Amateur Open Net Tourneys Predicted

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Open tennis tournaments for professionals and amateurs probably will be played in less than two years, authoritative sources predicted today at the Wimbledon Championships.

The first major step toward changing tennis laws to allow open tournaments is expected in Dublin, Ireland, July 8, at the annual meeting of the International Lawn Tennis Conference.

The group, comprised of representatives of about 60 national tennis associations, is reported about ready to order its nine-member management committee to draft regulations opening the way for amateurs and professionals to play together in much the same way as golfers now associate.

In the strictly amateur Wimbledon today it was the men's turn to play singles after a program devoted mostly to women's first and second round singles yesterday.

All the seeded girls lived through the play, but five out of 13 American girls lost. They were Gwyn Thomas, Cleveland, Jeanne Arth, St. Paul, Minn., Pat Stewart, Forest Hills, Lind Fail, Oakland, Calif., and Carmen Lampe, New York.

The best job done was by Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., who faced two match points against Fay Muller of Australia. The American kept her head, hit back and won the match 5-7, 8-6, 6-4.

Other highly seeded players such as Britain's Christine Truman and Angela Mortimor won without undue effort. Beverly Baker Fleitz of Long Beach, Calif., the third seed, had a tough fight to win.

Marin Golfer Runner-Up In NCAA Tourney

Tom Jakobsen of San Anselmo, a Drake High School graduate now attending the University of Oregon, yesterday placed second in qualifying for the National Collegiate Golf Tournament at Eugene, Ore.

The handsome, lanky sophomore fired a two-under-par 69 yesterday following a sizzling 68 first round to win runner-up honors with his total of 137, only one stroke over the tournament record of 136.

Match play competition started today at the par 71 Eugene Country Club course.

Bob Pratt and Jack Cupit led a record-breaking Houston University team into the match play.

Both Pratt and Cupit tied the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. record for qualifying play yesterday.

Pratt had rounds of 66 and 70, Cupit 69 and 67. The record is shared with Don Albert of Purdue, who set it in 1954, and John Pott, of Louisiana State, who tied it in 1955.

Houston smashed the team record in carrying off the team title a fourth consecutive year. The record was 570 strokes by four players set by Houston last year. Now the mark is 561.

There were 16 players from Southwest schools going into the 64 match play positions, more than any other region. The Pacific Northwest was closest, qualifying 14.

Following Jakobsen at 138 were Ron Royer of Indiana and Leighton Tuttle of Oregon State.

Jack Ellis of Oklahoma State had 139 and Carl Mitchell of Purdue 140. There was a three-way tie at 141 among Ron Preston of Stanford, John Konsek of Purdue and Bob Snelling of Stanford.

Houston's closest competition came from Purdue, which was 10 strokes in the rear at 571. Stanford had 573 and Oregon 574.

WRINKLY WINK—Casey Stengel, whose New York Yankees boosted themselves out of the league cellar, winks in dressing room after a game.

CRANKY, KINDLY

What's Casey Like? 'Ain't Been Written'

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — Everyone always wants to know "What is Casey Stengel really like?"

Well, it's like he says himself:

"The real story about me ain't been written yet. And it won't be while I'm still in this business. When I'm through, maybe. I'll see about it then."

Stengel is a man of a million moods and he's subject to any one of them at any given time.

When he's mean and cranky, look out!

"There's no living with him at any time we get five or six runs ahead in a ball game," offers one Yankee player who has served under him for some time.

"He's like a holy terror, making sure none of us let those other guys up for a minute."

On other occasions, however, Casey can be as kindly and considerate as your paternal grandfather. Especially to some 8 or 9-year-old boy who may be brought into the dugout to meet him before a game.

"What position do you play, son?" is one of his usual opening gambits. "Catcher, eh? That's a real tough job these days. Have you talked to Yogi yet? He loves to talk to people. Catchers, outfielders, infielders, it makes no difference to Berra. He loves to talk to anyone, even umpires . . ."

Whereas some managers use the pronoun "we" in referring to their ball club, Casey uses "I." But he's consistent. For example:

"I hit that guy pretty good today if I gotta say so myself."

Or, "The way I fielded that bunt out there I deserved to have them beat it out on me."

Stengel has a prodigious memory.

He can, and often does, recall minute details of ball games he played in at Kankakee back in 1910. Similarly, he can tell you what that third baseman for Durham is hitting in the Carolina League now.

Surest way to get his dander up is to even hint that the Yankee front office tells him how to run the team.

He has a healthy respect for those "upstairs" but he certainly doesn't kow-tow to them.

As for directing the Yankee players, Stengel always will listen to advice from his coaches but in the final analysis he makes the decisions.

After the ball games are over, the Yankee skipper isn't much for night life.

Casey gets his biggest kick trying to out-maneuver rival managers. Right now, he considers Paul Richards of Baltimore his toughest match.

"There's a guy," he says, admiringly, "who is even outplatooning me."

Praise from Caesar is praise, indeed.

'Don't Count Me Out Yet,' Warns Williams

DETROIT (AP)—"They'd better not count me out yet," insists Ted Williams. "They might be counting too soon."

The Boston slugger, nearing 41, admits he is a trifle worried about the worst batting slump of his long and brilliant career.

"But if I didn't think I'd come out of it," he snapped, "I'd quit right now. Better yet, I'h have packed it in last month."

The big fellow has bounced back before. He has had his share of injuries and there were a couple of interruptions for Marine duty.

Yesterday he got a rousing ovation from a Briggs Stadium crowd of 40,085 when he slammed an eighth inning home run against the second deck facing in right field. It helped the Sox to a 10-4 victory. Williams also had a ground single in three trips, boosting his average to an anemic .202.

"I know a lot of people are saying the old guy is washed up, but it just isn't true," said Williams. "I've been around longer than anyone except Enos Slaughter. Now I ask you — shouldn't I know myself pretty well?

"Sure—better than anyone. And I know damn well, I'm not through as a hitter. I can't run and my arm isn't very strong, but I can still hit. And I'll prove it.

"If I had hit .260 last year I'd know my time had come. But I hit pretty well, especially in the last two months of the season. No one in the majors hit any better over that span."

Williams, who led the American League with a .328 mark in 1958, says he knows why he hasn't been hitting.

"I don't want it to sound like an alibi," he emphasized, "but look at it this way. Seven days after I got to spring training my neck started to pain me. Finally I couldn't move and I went to Boston—missed practically all of spring training.

"Then I spent 40 days in traction and a collar. Ten days later I was in the lineup. I just hurried myself that's all. My neck and the muscles in my back still give me trouble. Once I get that straightened around, I'll be all right. Just you wait and see."

Managers Clear Palermo In L.A. Ring Hearing

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two fight managers say that Frank "Blinky" Palermo had nothing to do with their decision to withdraw from a Hollywood Legion Stadium bout June 13.

Promoter Jackie Leonard contends managers Sam Boardman and Fred Amaroso pulled their fighters out of the match because of pressure from Palermo, a Philadelphia manager. Palermo is an associate of Frankie Carbo, under indictment in New York for illegal managerial operations.

Boardman told a federal grand jury yesterday that his son, Larry, was withdrawn from a lightweight bout with Art Ramponi because of an injured right hand. Amaroso said he pulled Ramponi out because of a severe cold.

The jury is investigating alleged underworld influence in California boxing.

Leonard says Palermo threatened him because he wouldn't act as middleman in an underworld attempt to gain control of welterweight champion Don Jordan. The promoter says he was approached in the mistaken belief he owned part of the champion's contract.

The promoter was found unconscious in his garage June 3. He says he was beaten by thugs, but police claim he apparently collapsed and mistakenly thought he was being attacked.

Columnist Clears Out Notes: Here's What He Discovers

CONNOLLY

Time to sweep the office floor, clean out the waste basket and straighten up the drawers. Surprising the number of notes a columnist can accumulate in a couple of weeks—so here goes with the hash.

Nearing the half-way mark in big league baseball, it is hard to remember when so many clubs have been in contention in both leagues at the same time. In the American League, five clubs are bunched on top with only Boston, Washington and Kansas City falling out of the race.

However, the play of the New York Yankees and the Detroit Tigers after miserable starts for both clubs marks these two as the solid contenders. You can't pick against the Yanks. The Tigers look good for second, with Cleveland, Chicago and Baltimore following in that order.

In the National League you have to respect the Pittsburgh Pirates for their resurgence after a can't-win-for-losing start. The Milwaukee Braves have been having their annual June troubles but are still hanging in there. San Francisco's Giants and the smog-bound Dodgers from the south are in-and-outers. Either team could cop it all if they could mount one solid offensive drive that would put them four or five games out in front and put the pressure on the other contenders. As of today we would have to name Milwaukee, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Chicago in that order.

THE ONE FACTOR that keeps each of these teams from pulling away from the pack is weakness at the middle stations. The Braves have tried four different men at second base in an attempt to replace Red Shoendienst, and not one is a major leaguer. Bill Rigney has tried a different tack with the Giants, sticking stubbornly with one man, Andy Rogers, at shortstop. Same result — Andy is not a big leaguer.

Over at Pittsburgh, Bill Mazeroski has gone from a great to a bum in one year. Ernie Banks of Chicago makes up for his weak fielding with powerful hitting, but Taylor has not yet proved major league ability at second. The Dodgers alternate Neal, Fairly and Zimmer with fair success.

IT IS HARD to imagine the Giants without Sam Jones and Hobie Landrith, both acquired from St. Louis in the trade that sent Bill White and Ray Jablonski to the Cardinals. But you can't help wondering how many games White might have won for the Giants. He is currently batting over .350 after a poor start, second in the league. Jabbo is right up there too, and the two of them have kept the Cardinals from being the poorest team in the league.

Toothpick Jones has won eight games and saved a few others. Only time will tell whether or not the Giants got the best or the worst of the deal. When Musial retires, White will take over for many years. How long will Jones be effective?

AT THE BOTTOM of the basket this final note to myself. Look for Ted Williams to retire after the All-Star game on July 7. Big Ted has reached the end of the line, batting under .200, and more of a detriment to the Red Sox than a help. He does not have the temperament to stick around any longer.

Buchholz Best Amateur Talent, Kramer Declares

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Pro tennis czar Jack Kramer today called temperamental teen-ager Earl Buchholz of St. Louis the "greatest tennis talent" in the amateur ranks "and I can hardly wait to get him."

This was Kramer's answer to Buchholz statement that "I can hardly wait to turn professional" after his first-round upset of Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli at Wimbledon.

"Of all the amateurs around, Buchholz has the most talent," Kramer said. "More than Alex Olmedo, more than any of them. And don't worry about his temperament. It'll change when he turns pro. They all do."

Scanlon Vs. Italy Champ In TV Bout

CHICAGO (UPI)—Mario Vecchiato, Italian lightweight champion, will risk an 18-fight winning streak on television tonight in his American debut against America's seventh-ranked 135-pounder, Bobby Scanlon.

The fight was rated even with Vecchiato more highly regarded than most foreigners who step into American rings. He has fought and defeated two Americans, Charley Douglas and Orlando Zulueta, the latter well rated in the United States, and another Italian, Paolo Rosi, third rated among the lightweights, thought his countryman would have no problem in adopting to American competition.

Scanlon, beated by Johnny Gonzalves in his last bout April 9, also has a win over Zulueta on his record, but he has lost to Rosi twice. Overall he has won 32 of 36 pro bouts, losing twice by decision and once by knockout.

Scanlon, originally from Lackawanna, N. Y., but now living in San Francisco, will have a five-year advantage in age on his foe at 23 compared to 28 for Vechiato. Both were rated about the same in speed and boxing ability.

REDWOOD HIGH SCHOOL EXPANSION — Architect's rendering shows a distance view of Redwood High School as it will appear when fully developed for 3,000 students. Existing gymnasium it as right. Two wings of two-story academic quadrangle at left also are existing structures. Intermediate development stage now being planned to increase school's capacity by an additional 1,000 students will include two more classroom wings, completing academic quadrangle. Architects are Gromme, Mulvin and Priestly of San Rafael.

Plans Unveiled For Expansion Of Growing Redwood High School

Redwood High School, which opened its doors for the first time last September, will find its facilities crammed beyond its 1,200-student capacity when school starts next fall.

To keep up with Redwood High's growing enrollment, trustees of Tamalpais Union High School District last year instructed the district's architect and engineers to prepare preliminary plans for additional facilties.

Last week, reviewing an array of drawings for the trustees, architect Ralph Priestley said the school is planned to be constructed in several stages to meet the needs of a continuous enrollment growth. Priestley is a partner in Gromme, Mulvin and Priestley, San Rafael architectural firm.

The board instructed the architects and engineers to proceed with working drawings for new buildings to increase the school's capacity to 2,200 students. Priestley said the preliminary drawings alone represented the culmination of a year of study and planning with district representatives.

Slated for construction in the school's next expansion are two additional two-story academic wings housing classrooms and science facilities. Library expansion and construction of canteen facilities also will be a part of the program.

Priestley said plans and specifications could be ready to go to bid next spring. He told the board the additional facilities could be completed for the opening of school in September, 1961.

The reinforced concrete, fireproof buildings of Redwood High School were constructed at a cost of less than $12 per square foot. It was one of the lowest-cost high schools to be built in Northern California. During the school's short history, maintenance and operational costs have been about one-half those incurred at other high schools.

Besides Gromme, Mulvin and Priestley, the design team responsible for the school's development includes Harold M. Engle, structural engineer; Clyde E. Bentley, consulting engineer, and French, Jones and Associates, landscape architects.

An average of 242,811,000 local telephone calls are made each day in the U. S.

Austin Hired Again By College Board

By 3-1 votes last night, the Marin Junior College District board offered Ward H. Austin, College of Marin president, a new two-year contract and accepted the resignation of veteran trustee Mrs. Ada M. Fusselman.

In each instance, the dissenting vote was cast by George G. Washburn. Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy offered both motions.

Washburn, not opposed to a new contract for Austin, based his "no" vote on a belief the renewal period should be one year instead of two. And he argued, unsuccessfully, that Mrs. Fusselman be asked to reconsider her decision to resign.

HIRING PRACTICE

Mrs. Deedy said she understands school boards make it a general practice to offer their top administrators term contracts of more than one year. She said this has not been done at the College of Marin.

Before moving that Austin be offered a two-year contract, she noted he will reach retirement age at the end of that period.

"What is the reason for this?" Washburn demanded. "You're going to have practically the same board here next year . . . I think the board should retain the right to discharge an administrator at any time it sees fit."

WASHBURN ADAMANT

Mrs. Deedy said this could be done even with a two-year contract. But Washburn was adamant. He said a contract of more than one year would "take away a prerogative of this board."

"We have the right, now, to discharge Mr. Austin if he doesn't behave himself," Washburn said. "But give him a two-year contract and he can do what he wants."

Austin, who came to the college as an engineering instructor in 1927 and was named president in 1943, thanked the board for its favorable action.

"I feel it is a vote of confidence, and I appreciate it," he said.

SEEKS DELAY

After reading the letter of resignation from Mrs. Fusselman, a trustee since the college was founded in 1926, Washburn moved that action be postponed pending a board request that she reconsider.

"I think," he said, "that when we lose Mrs. Fusselman from this board, we are losing one of the most competent school trustees Marin County ever had."

His motion died for lack of a second, the other board members expressing the belief Mrs. Fusselman would not change her mind.

Mrs. Deedy then moved "that we accept Mrs. Fusselman's resignation with sincere regrets and that we request the secretary of the board (Washburn) to address a letter to her in appreciation of her services."

"When a person has served as Mrs. Fusselman has," she said after the 2-1 vote, "neither the district nor the college loses her. They will feel the effects of her work for a long time to come. I wish her well."

REPLACEMENT

There was no mention last night of a possible successor, who must be appointed by the four remaining trustees.

Rupert E. Kempf was named temporary board president at the start of the meeting. Mrs. Fusselman had occupied the president's chair for six years until she resigned last week.

A reorganization meeting of the board was set for July 1 at 8 p.m.

Washburn, who said he will be unable to attend, asked that he be relieved of the secretaryship at the reorganization session. He said he believes that post, plus the board presidency and vice presidency, should be rotated on an annual basis.

Marin Gets Share Of Trailer Fees

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—State Controller Alan Cranston announced Marin County received $1,758 fro mthe semi-annual apportionment of trailer coach fees .

Cranston said the money goes to the county auditor, who divides it equally among the county, city (if any) and school district in which the trailer is registered.

The apportionment, which totaled $434,102, was for the first half of the 1958-59 fiscal year. It is the smaller of the two trailer coach fee apportionments made each year.

PINEAPPLE PINK—The batter for this creation (secret!) comes from a package, but is mixed with two egg whites instead of a whole egg. Fluffy icing borrows its pink and its flavor from the currant jelly which crowns it. Filling is pineapple custard.

GIVING A SHOWER?

Pink Pineapple Party Cake (As Delicious As It Looks)

If you are looking for a conversation piece to enliven one of your party menus, try Pink Pineapple Cake. It offers a new experience in desserts and would be perfect for a birthday or bridal shower.

The filling is a lemon-flavored custard made with sour cream and the always popular, delicate flavor of crushed pineapple added.

A pink frosting is used for the sides of cake only and the topping is a red currant jelly glaze with rings of golden pineapple arranged on top.

One of the brightest ways to serve Pink Pineapple Cake is to bring it to the table for all to admire.

PINK PINEAPPLE CAKE

- 1 package white cake mix
- 2 eggs, separated
- ½ cup sugar
- 2½ tablespoons cornstarch
- Dash of salt
- 2 cups undrained canned crushed pineapple
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- ½ cup dairy sour cream
- 6 tablespoons red currant jelly
- 5 slices canned pineapple, drained
- Pink frosting (cream cheese or fluffy-type)

Mix and bake cake by package directions for 8 or 9-inch layers. Use egg whites only in cake. Cool completely.

Filling: Meanwhile mix sugar, cornstarch, salt, pineapple and the egg yolks in top of double boiler. Cook and stir over boiling water until very thick and cornstarch is cooked. Stir in lemon juice and rind. Cool covered. Blend sour cream into cold filling.

To assemble cake: Slice each layer into thin layers with a sharp, serrated knife. Spread filling between layers but not on top. Over low heat, melt jelly with 2 tablespoons pineapple syrup. Brush a thin film over top of cake. Set pineapple slices on top. Carefully spoon rest of jelly over fruit and cake top in smooth even layer. Reheat if jelly "jells" again.

Frosting: To make Cream Cheese Frosting, soften 1 three-ounce package cream cheese with 2 tablespoons pineapple syrup or juice. Add 2½ cups of powdered sugar a half cup at a time, blending after each addition. Add grated orange or lemon rind and a few drops of red vegetable coloring to tint a delicate pink.

Frost sides with pink cream cheese or fluffy frosting from a mix. Chill until well set before serving.

A Baked Custard, Plain and Simple

Ingredients: 4 eggs, ⅓ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 quart milk (scalded), 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Method: Beat eggs slightly; add sugar and salt and mix well. Vigorously stir in scalded milk gradually, then vanilla. Strain into custard cups. Place cups in roasting pan; pour boiling water around them to almost height of custard. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 to 35 minutes or until a silver knife inserted in center comes out almost clean. Remove cups from water; cool on rack. Chill. Serve in cups or loosen sides with small knife or spatula and turn out. Serve plain or with fresh fruit sauce. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Who's Celebrating Dairy Month Most

June is Dairy Month, and California's cows are doing more than their share to celebrate by well out-producing average cows everywhere else.

We have more than 868,000 cows working on this project, night and day, without once complaining about weather conditions.

Our vast, busy bovine population takes its work especially seriously in the month of June, evidently striving for new records. (After all, the petroleum industry is bigger.) Hence, June dairy Month celebrations throughout our state.

Showing appreciation for these superlative efforts, Californians are drinking about the same amount of milk they did last year but are eating 15.3 per cent more sour cream; 8.5 per cent more cottage cheese; 9.7 per cent more ice cream, ice milk and sherbet combined. All of this is challenging to the milk-makers, deservedly called the world's most efficient source of food supplies.

The fact that Californians are not drinking lots more milk is challenging to nutritionists who keep reminding us that milk is nature's most perfect food for everybody. Evidently we're not cooperating in the milk drinking department, though it is obvious that we are eating more milk. If you're statistically minded, we explain that we're drinking as much total milk as last year, but our population has increased 4 per cent.

The new food selection plan, sponsored by U.S. Department of Agriculture, lists milk first in its grouping of foods essential to daily meal planning and buoyant health. It reads:

"Group 1. Milk for children, 3 to 4 cups; teenagers, 4 or more; adults, 2 or more cups; pregnant women, 4 or more; nursing mothers, 6 or more."

APPRECIATIVE COWS

Last cow count to come to our attention recorded 20.5 million cows in the United States, not including Alaska and Hawaii; of these, 868,000 are lucky enough to live in California. They appreciate their way of life so much that they produce more milk per cow than do cows of any other state in the forty eight.

Average annual U.S. production per cow is a mere 6,162 pounds (with many states falling below 5,000; whereas California cows go right on averaging 8,880 pounds or obviously 44 per cent above the national average.

Perhaps the fact that California dairymen have close to $1 billion invested in them, their buildings and corrals has something ot do with it. Our dairymen also pay well over $80 million a year for hired help; safeguard our top quality milk production and distribution every step of the way.

CASH FROM COWS

Not only do our California cows give more milk per cow than cows of any other state in the nation, but our entire dairy industry ranks third in cash receipts from farm marketing of milk; fourth in total milk products and sixth in average number of cows milked.

Our dairy herds contribute close to a million dollars a day in cash farm income, surpassed only by Wisconsin and New York which obviously have more cows, but not better cows. Wisconsin, New York and Minnesota produce more total poundage; have more cows working for them.

We appropriately pause to pay tribute to our California dairy farmers as we celebrate June Dairy Month; note with esteem and admiration their fine records.

CHEESE IT!

Californians may have decided they're drinking enough milk, but they reciprocate Bossy's industry by solid support—eating her output in solid form, that is.

They (Californians, not cows) are eating more cottage cheese with each passing year. Total consumption of cottage cheese in 1957 exceeded 120 million pounds and those who measure these things noted an 8.5 per cent increase in 1958.

Local dairies offer two types of cottage cheese, regular and partially creamed. Regular cottage cheese has about 4½ per cent butter fat, partially creamed has 2 per cent fat. Regular has fresh, sweet cream added for extra flavor and to give it a moist consistency. Californians prefer regular over partially creamed at a ratio of about 9 to 1.

HANDLE WITH CARE

Cottage cheese is highly perishable; should be stored in coldest part of refrigerator. It should be kept covered to keep off-flavors and odors from developing; should be used within three days. It may be frozen satisfactorily when packed solidly in cartons and tightly closed; held at zero.

SUMMER EXTRAS

During the school year, most children get extra milk via the National School Lunch act. At home, they are likely to demand something a little fancier in the way of in-betweens. At any rate, milkshakes made with ice milk or ice cream in almost any form are favorites with kids everywhere, anytime.

Which means, of course, buying more of Bossy's liquid best, either at the market or for home delivery.

Something Sweet And Elegant For A Party To Honor Bride

Sometimes, a delectable new dessert can speak as eloquently of love and impending nuptials as a pretty sonnet. Such a confection is this delicate, cool and sweet Coffee Paradise. The top is dark and clear, revealing a pale ring of pears, while the bottom layer is frothy, light and creamy. The secret of its eloquence? Coffee — in the recipe as well as in the cups!

COFFEE PARADISE

- 1 tablespoon unflavored gelatine
- 2 tablespoons cold water
- 6 tablespoons sugar
- 1 cup hot strong coffee
- ½ cup pear syrup
- 5 to 6 canned pear halves
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla

Soften gelatine in cold water. Add sugar, pour hot coffee over all and stir until dissolved. Add pear syrup. Arrange pear halves in bottom of 10-inch ring mold. Add part of gelatine mixture to a depth of about half an inch and chill.

Chill remaining gelatine mixture until slightly thickened.

Whip cream and vanilla together and fold into gelatine mixture. Spoon into ring mold and chill until firm. Unmold on serving platter. Serve with additional whipped cream, if desired, and Chocolate Sauce.*

CHOCOLATE SAUCE

- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate
- ⅔ cup sugar
- 1 cup water
- 2 tablespoons corn syrup
- Few grains salt
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla

Combine chocolate, sugar, water, corn syrup and salt in saucepan. Stir over low heat until chocolate is melted. Bring to boil over medium heat and let boil three minutes, stirring constantly. Cool and stir in vanilla. Makes 1⅓ cups.

COFFEE PARADISE—A most unusual amalgam of sumptuous flavors —Pears "float" in clear coffee matrix, ringing rich whipped cream. For the final filip: chocolate sauce.

COFFEE PLUS — What is a kaffeeklatsch without both coffee and something to nibble thereby. For a hot summer day, the coffee comes iced and the "thereby" in the form of Little Hermits.

LITTLE HERMITS

Kaffeeklatsch Dons Summer Raiment

It's only natural that the kaffeeklatsch should be just as popular in the summer as it is in the winter. After all, there's just as much to talk about! But there is one big difference between the winter coffee and the summer coffee. In the winter, it's hot—in the summer, it's icy cold. And, of course, it makes a lot of sense when you want to cool off out on the patio.

When you serve iced coffee, it's a good idea to have something to nibble on, and Little Hermits are just the ticket. They're chewy and delicious—and, best of all, they're easy to make. The iced coffee, by the way, is also easy to make. You simply have to brew your hot coffee strong enough to avoid dilution from melting ice.

Here are the measurements for making four servings of extra-strength coffee in any type of coffee maker: use six standard coffee measures (or 12 level measuring tablespoons) of coffee to three measuring cups of water. Pour the brewed coffee into four tall, ice-filled glasses and serve it with cream and sugar, or sugar syrup. Your coffee will be truly flavorful and you can enjoy your summer kaffeeklatsch to your heart's content.

LITTLE HERMITS

- 2 cups seedless raisins
- 1 cup shortening
- 1½ cups firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon molasses
- 3 eggs, unbeaten
- 3¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 tablespoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon cloves
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

Rinse raisins in hot water, drain and dry on paper toweling. Cream shortening, sugar and molasses. Add eggs and beat well. Mix and sift flour, salt, baking soda and spices and add. Mix lightly. Stir in raisins and nutmeats. Drop by teaspoons on greased baking sheets. Bake in moderate oven, 375°, 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 9 dozen small cookies.

Mrs. David S. Osborn Wins In Kitchen-Planning Contest

Mrs. David S. Osborn of 203 Broadway, Fairfax, was first prize winner in North Bay Electric Company's better-kitchen contest.

The competition was a double-play of wits—first against three experts in kitchen planning, then against her runner-up, Mrs. Angelo Franchi, 175 Montecito road, San Rafael.

The 195 entrants were shown 11 watercolor renderings of kitchens and asked to list the five considered best. In addition, each wrote 25 words explaining reasons for her choice.

The entrants' choices were then matched against the choices of Sidney A. Colton, AIA; Harold B. Wagstaff, draughtsman and designer, and Janean Schaetzel, kitchen consultant. Mrs. Osborn and Mrs. Franchi matched their choices. Mrs. Osborn was then declared winner of a Hotpoint built-in oven and surface unit on the basis of her essay.

Tied with 4 out of 5 were Mrs. Lynn M. Rudee of 150 Spring Grove, San Anselmo, and Mrs. F. F. Sylvester of 20 Parka lane, Fairfax. Mrs. Rudee's essay won her the third prize of a transistor radio, and Mrs. Sylvester received a traveling iron.

These grandmotherly lima beans belong at a barbecue. The key to success is overnight soaking, no matter what it says on the package. Cooking time is less than for white beans.

YANKEE BAKED LIMA BEANS

Ingredients: 2 cups large dry limas, 5 cups water, ⅓ pound cubed salt pork, salt, ½ cup catchup, ¾ cup finely diced onion, ¼ cup brown sugar, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce.

Method: Soak limas in water 5 to 6 hours or overnight. Bring slowly to boil. Add salt pork and boil gently until almost tender, 35 to 45 minutes. Taste and season with salt if needed.

Put limas and 1½ cups cooking liquid in casserole. Mix remaining ingredients and stir into limas. Put part of the salt pork on top. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 1½ hours. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Note: If unsoaked limas are used, stir them into 2 quarts rapidly boiling water; boil gently 1½ hours.

ALMOST TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE

Youngsters at the village school in Skounda, Greece, were almost unable to believe their good fortune when each received a CARE school kit of pencils, notebooks and other essentials. Of 900,000 elementary school pupils in Greece, 600,000 are too poor to buy materials needed to do their lessons. It costs $2 to provide a school kit for a Greek child through CARE, San Francisco 11. There are also special CARE school kit packages for needy children in 10 other countries, at $1 and $2 each.

Many Offer To Assist In Therapy

A record number of teenagers have volunteered to serve in summer speech therapy program of the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults from July 6 through Aug. 14 at Arequipa Center, Fairfax.

They are from the Young People's Fellowship of the Episcopal Church of Our Savior in Mill Valley, and the Tamalpais Assembly of the Rainbow for Girls.

The Mill Valley group will be under the direction of Mrs. Jesse Sullivan and the Rainbow girls will be organized by advisers, Shireen O'Brien and Mrs. Harry Underwood.

The volunteers will staff the playground and supervise the activities of sisters and brothers of therapy students for three mornings a week during parent counseling and speech therapy sessions.

The society's newest program is under the chairmanship of Mrs. John B. Ehlen of Sausalito. Speech therapists who will conduct the six-weeks service are: Mrs. Lorraine Barry, director, Mrs. Helen Daggett, and Jean Maraist, of the American Speech and Hearing Society.

To Serve On Midway

FROM MIAMI TO MEXICO CITY VIA CAB

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Venezuelan industrialist Enrique A. Eraso and his wife arrived in Mexico City yesterday from Miami by taxi-cab.

Driver Peter Molina said he thought Eraso was joking when he said he wanted a ride to Mexico City in his cab.

When he found Eraso was serious, he asked if he could bring along his own wife, and the Venezuelan agreed.

The two couples left Miami June 13 in Molina's 1959 air-conditioned Cadillac. Their leisurely, 2,500-mile ride cost Eraso $2,500.

Thieves Getting Set For Summer?

Even thieves are getting ready for the summer fling.

Golf equipment, a sailing boat and an outboard motor were reported stolen from various parts of the county during the weekend.

William R. Silver of 2115 Grand avenue, San Rafael, reported $175 worth of golf gear missing from the unlocked trunk of his car Monday. Gone are four woods and nine iron clubs.

Thieves hauled off a 14-foot sailing boat worth $600 anchored near the Corinthian Yacht Club in Tiburon. William S. Neville of 23 Corte Morada court, Greenbrae, said it must have been carted away by land because there was no motor, sail or rudder on the boat.

Kirby Atterbury of 53 Main street, Tiburon, reported Monday the 35-horsepower motor was stolen from his 15-foot outboard parked in a lot near Sam's Anchor Cafe. The motor is worth $561.

Marin Realtors Hear Expert Discuss Mortage Financing

William A. Marcus of Mill Valley, retired senior vice president of the American Trust Co., yesterday outlined the ABC's of mortage finance to members of the Marin County Real Estate Board at the board's regular breakfast meeting.

Marcus traced the growth of federal government housing financing agencies and programs since 1932 and noted that the major federal agencies operating in this field have placed a total of 150 billion dollars in loans, loan guarantees or indirect backing of home loans through bond purchases by the federal treasury.

On the other hand, he pointed out, private financing has also made "impressive" contributions to the growth of U.S. housing.

TOTAL INVESTMENTS

The total of mortgage investments by the four major groups of lenders—commercial banks, mutual savings banks, savings and loan assiciations and insurance companies—had risen from about 20 billion dollars in 1945 to about 130 billion in 1958, he said.

"How did the builders fare in this period?" he asked, going on to give this answer:

"From a low of 225,000 housing starts in 1945 we saw a steady increase until we reached 1949 with 1,025,000 starts. From then on we have shown over a million starts annually for 10 years in a row. With forced stimulants the starts of 1950 were 1,395,000 and of 1955 were 1,329,000. Last year we had about 1,200,000. It looks to me as though we have had a housing boom for 10 years. And the outlook for this year is better than for 1955. We will probably see 1,350,000 housing units constructed in 1959.

THE LESSONS

"Have we gathered any lessons in mortgage finance from the experience of the past decade? It seems to me that we should have learned a few things:

"We should know by this time that mortgage money comes only from the savings of the nation. Fortunately the savings of 1957 and 1958, particularly in the form of savings deposits in commercial banks, were unusually high, which fact helped to ease the tightness of the supply which existed in 1956 and part of 1957, and provided additional funds to help swell this year's volume of home building.

"2. You cannot control money rates by government decree. The artificially low rate set by the government on veteran loans for the past 15 years has probably done the veteran more harm than good and made his financing more costly by the growth of the discount system, whereby the discount on the resultant loan was invariably added to the purchase price and capitalized over a 25 or 30-year period. This was, and is, an important factor in the spread of infiation—a dread disease that should be fought vigorously by every one of us.

ADDS TO WEALTH

"3. You can't have your cake and eat it too. There is a calculable amount of savings added yearly to the national wealth. For example, assume that there is a probability of attracting 12 billion dollars to lend on new housing and you wish to erect 1,200,000 houses, each carrying a loan.

"The average loan would be $10,000. You cannot erect and finance 100,000 more by the simple expedient of inviting everyone to borrow $11,000 per house. As a matter of arithmetic you would be able to finance almost 100,000 fewer homes on that basis. Yet year after year Congress, by setting easier and easier terms, hopes both to create more demand and more dollars to loan—a very risky theory, and a task impossible to solve without deficit financing, more government participation and more inflation."

Marcus declared that there has been and continues to be an adequate supply of funds for mortgage financing, but that "we are following the patters of the past and drawing down on those funds faster than they are being created."

There is one big bright spot in the loan picture, however, he said.

"I refer to Pension Funds. This amazing pool of savings is far larger than the savings and loan associations, or the savings deposits of commercial banks, or the assets of mutual savings banks and is already equal in size to the insurance companies. The aggregate of pension funds of all kinds is 100 billion dollars.

"Hardly any of these funds are presently invested in mortgages, yet real estate loans should be as sound an investment for them as for the institutional groups mentioned by me. Much has been done to convince pension fund trustees of the wisdom of placing a reasonable portion of their assets in mortgages. Some headway has been made in this field and each succeeding year will show more progress."

Anderson-Gnoss Rites Recited At Our Lady Of Loretto Church

Decorations of white gladioli and white stock were at the altar of Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato for the Saturday wedding of Louise Margaret Gnoss of Novato and John Daniel Anderson of South Gate, Calif., and Novato.

The bride is the daughter of Marin County Supervisor and Mrs. William A. Gnoss of Novato, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson of South Gate.

The Rev. Charles Farrell officiated for the 3 o'clock double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle fashioned with long sleeves, scalloped neckline and lace bodice. Vertical lace panels on the full tulle skirt extended into a semi-train. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was caught by a cap of lace and seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Leo Horton of San Rafael as matron of honor, and bridesmaids, the Mesdames Henry Burback of Los Angeles, David Lloyd of San Rafael, and David Douglas of Novato, and Judy Johnson and Carole Hall of Novato, wore dresses of white lace fashioned with full skirts. Each of the honor attendants' dresses was designed with pastel cummerbunds, and they carried white carnation bouquets with streamers to match the cummerbund of the dress. They had white satin bandeaux with circular veils.

Little Kathy Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bryant of Novato, was flower girl. She wore a white organdie dress.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gnoss chose a dress of mauve lace over taffeta with matching accessories. She had a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Anderson wore an aqua lace dress with bone accessories and a white orchid corsage.

A reception for 300 guests followed the ceremony at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, where arrangements were carried out with white gladioli, stock and ivy. Mrs. Don Thompson of Petaluma was in charge of the guest book.

For a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe and Southern California, the bride wore a two-piece dress of orange shantung with black accessories and a white orchid.

The bride attended Novato schools and was graduated from San Rafael High School and Healds Business College in San Francisco. William A. Gnoss Jr. of Novato is her brother, and she is the niece of Edward, George and Joseph Gnoss of Novato. The late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gnoss of Novato were her grandparents. Hamiltons Will Leave Tomorrow On European Trip Leaving Mill Valley tomorrow for an unusually interesting trip abroad will be the widely feted Col. and Mrs. William Hamilton, with their daughter, Mary, recently graduated from Edna Maguire School, and son, Eric, just graduated from Tamalpais High School.

They will go by train to British Columbia and across Canada to Montreal, where they will sail on the Empress of England. After landing in Scotland they will cross the channel into the low countries and from Stockholm will go on to make a 16-day tour of Russia that will include a three-day boat trip down the River Don to the Black Sea.

Returning to Stockholm, they will go up the Rhine to Lausanne, Switzerland, where they will leave Mary to attend the French Mont Choisi School for six months. Because only French is spoken there, she will repeat part of the eighth grade and in the fall she hopes to enter the Katharine Branson School.

Eric is looking forward to bicycling with the American Youth Hostel and will join them from time to time.

The Hamiltons then plan to continue to Vienna, parts of Italy, Spain and Portugal, returning in the spring to pick up Mary in time to see "April in Paris." After visiting London they will go through Southern France to Italy, where they will embark at Genoa for a trip around the world via the Suez Canal.

During the 14 months they are traveling their house will be occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Laurens Garlington and their baby daughter, Susan.

Troop Map Sale Aids Camp Fund

"A Girl Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others," third on the list of the 10 Girl Scout laws, was exemplified recently by the members of Troop 177 who sold enough maps of Marinwood in that area to contribute $25 to the campership fund which benefits Marin County Girl Scouts.

Troop 177, led by Mrs. James Rowen, is composed of Intermediate Scouts from grades six through eight, and is one of Marin's largest troops, numbering 38 girls. In addition to selling the Marinwood maps, the girls delivered free of charge, to approximately 800 people in the area, a booklet entitled "All About Marinwood," which lists home and school activities. This latter activity came under the heading of Girl Scout Community Service.

Troop 177 also contributed $5 to the Marin Humane Society. Assistant leaders are Mesdames Richard Herr, William Mann, Alf de la Haye and Harold Nixon.

MRS. REX MOREHOUSE ENOS who became the bride of the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Enos of Sausalito at recent rites at St. Patrick's Church in Cumberland, Md. She is the former Patricia Ann Salitrik and her parents are Mr. and Mrs. John S. Salitrik of Cumberland.

AT CHURCH RITES

Rex Enos Married To Maryland Girl

The marriage of Patricia Ann Salitrik of Cumberland, Md., to Rex Morehouse Enos, a former resident of Sausalito, took place recently at St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Cumberland. Mr. Enos is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Enos of Sausalito, and brother of Garrett David Hodgson, who lives with his wife and two children in Terra Linda. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John S. Salitrik of Cumberland. George E. Keeney of Sausalito served as best man and Miss JoAnn Neubiser, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Louisa Coffman of Washington, D.C., and Miss Mary Jo Brodbeck of Cumberland. Stephen Salitrik, the bride's brother, and Alger Cosby of Washington were ushers. The Rev. John U. Lyness officiated.

The bride, attired in a floor-length gown of white silk organza, was given in marriage by her father before an altar decorated with arrangements of white sanpdragons and carnations. Her gown was topped with a yoke of pearl-studded Venice lace. The skirt, with side poufs caught to a back bow, swept into a short train. Her veil of imported illusion net fell from a crown of Venice lace studded with pearls. Her only jewelry was a single diamond on a platinum chain, complementing her star-shaped diamond engagement ring.

As Thomas Carroll sang "Ave Maria" and "Mother At Thy Feet I'm Kneeling," the bride dedicated her cascade bouquet of yellow and white rosebuds to the Blessed Virgin.

Following the church ceremony and a reception at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club in Cumberland, the couple left for a wedding trip through the South. Upon their return they will reside at 7905 Kreeger drive in Adelphi, Md.

The bride is a 1955 graduate of Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Cumberland. She formerly served at Providence Hospital in Washington, and now is employed by Dr. J. J. McDonald, a pediatrician in Washington.

Mr. Enos received the bachelor of science degree in electronic engineering from the University of California and is employed by Melpar, Inc., in Arlington, Washington suburb.

Work Parties Busy Readying Camp Sierraville For Scouts

Sierraville, site of the new Marin County Girl Scout Camp, has been the scene of much activity during recent months as working parties consisting of fathers, mothers, volunteers and Girl Scouts have been putting in many hours of work in order to ready the camp for the summer.

Junior and senior high school Scouts and their fathers visited the location during the month of May and commenced many important jobs which were continued by later work parties.

Father and daughter duets included Walter Carter, chairman of the established camp committee and daughter, Barbie; James Allroggen and Linda; Thomas Bishell and Sue; Mervin Bolan and Gail; Arthur Clay and Mary Lou; Dr. Alfred Doane and Marcia; Maj. David Fife and Suzanne; Severt Guastad and Susan; N. E. Grose and Cheryl; James Rowen and Diane; Richard Shirley and Bonnie.

Also working with the group were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Perry, Mrs. Clement Moore, Edwin Wells, chairman of the Development Committee and in charge of projects and Miss Dorothy Erthle, executive director of Marin Girl Scouting.

Marin's former established camp at Huckleberry Woods was dismantled by a recent work party at which time the Scout equipment was loaded on trucks to be transported to the new camp in the high Sierra. June 6 and 7 saw another volunteer party at work at the same time as the contracted building program was under way on construction of a kitchen, water system and natural pool.

Adrian Malone is the architect for the new camp. A work party planning to go to the Sierraville primitive camp over the week-end of June 27 and 28 will prepare the camp for its opening session which will get under way July 13 and last through July 25. A second session at the new camp will be July 27 through Aug. 8. Scout Hall reports that there are still openings in both sessions for girls who are seventh grade Scouts or above and fulfill the requirements for primitive camp.

All work parties have been headed by Edwin Wells and Walter Carter. Handling telephoning in order to organize the volunteer labor has been Mrs. Kenneth R. Anderson.

Marin Women

Designer's Wrath

Any wife who greets her husband at night in "something comfortable," especially if that something is blue jeans, should beware of a young fashion designer's wrath. "Baggy blue jeans" are the pet peeve of this designer, who calls himself simply, "Tarquin." He also believes American women err in wearing French designs.

And if you plan to can or preserve some of the delicious fruits now reaching their peak, you'll like BALL Tapered Pint Jars—easy to fill because of the wide mouths, easy to seal (no paraffin) neat to store. Bonus: BALL Tapered Pint Jars are ideal for freezing purposes, too.

There's a world of cookery at your fingertips if you are acquainted with the CHUN KING Foods. Every sort of Oriental delicacy, from tender bamboo shoots to Chow Mein and Chicken Sub Gum is included, ready to combine or serve separately. The CHUN KING Divider Pak is handy; meat in one can, vegetables and sauce in another. Put them together and dinner's ready!

Got your shopping list handy? Put LINDSAY Pitted Ripe Olives on it and you'll be ready to meet any menu demand, from sliced rings to garnish salad or stuffed appetizers for parties, or olives which can be part of casseroles and creamed dishes, because there's no pit to contend with. LINDSAY Pitted Ripe Olives have the same, rich flavor, without the pit.

Everyone knows what gayety ROYAL TREAT Mushrooms can add to a meal. Here is a luncheon dish I enjoy. Saute 2 cups minced onion in 4 Tb. butter, add 4 Tb. flour; brown, then add ½ cup of mushroom juice, ½ cup Sherry and 2 bouillon cubes. Cook until smooth, then add 1 large can ROYAL TREATS. Serve on buttered toast, to two happy feasters.

Remember when a slice of bread and homemade jelly was Mother's cure for a bumped knee or hurt feelings? Today's children love it, too . . . and how good modern jelly is, made the modern way, without guesswork, with M.C.P. PECTIN. This pure, natural pectin, which comes from fresh fruit, insures firm, clear jelly, in half the time. Follow directions on the label.

"Ham and eggs for breakfast this morning!" Magical words . . . but what enchantment to the crib and high chair set is GERBER'S new baby treat, Egg Yolks and Ham, strained to fine-textured goodness for tiny babies, chopped to sunny delight for Junior teeth. Want to see your baby smile? Serve him GERBER'S Egg Yolks and Ham today.

"Generous with the oil, stingy with the vinegar" is the salad makers' creed. And since so little is used—why not the best—STAR Wine Vinegar with its ringing, delicate aroma, never too acid or strong? It comes plain and also with garlic or tarragon flavor. And for the best salad dressing you ever made, blend 1 part STAR Wine Vinegar and 3 parts STAR Olive Oil.

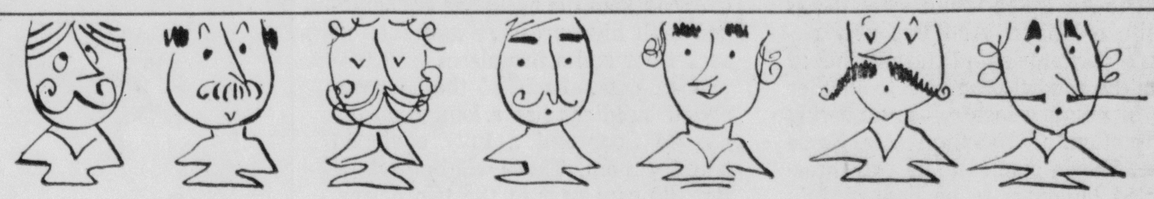

Sunshiny days in June are no days to stay indoors, that's sure! One of the quickest aids to speed the chores that must be done before you get out into that garden is SURF Soap. Linoleum and tile are easy to wash when you use this clean-smelling, efficient, all-purpose soap. SURF in the washing pail means quick mopping, clean-drying floors. Wonderful for laundering, too!

That's all for now! See you next week! Bonnie Hubbard

DORMITORIES PLEASE—NOT BARRACKS

The Air Force is not what it was in the old days. And two new airmen's dormitories—different indeed from the barracks common to another era in military history—are nearing completion at Hamilton Air Force Base. Shown is one of the two three-storied buildings to be opened July 10. In each are 70 three-man bedrooms with built-in metal lockers. On each floor there are two fully-tiled shower rooms and lavatories. The reinforced concrete block walls are fireproof, but the buildings are equipped with high pressure hydrants on each floor and a fire alarm system—just in case. Each of the modern-styled buildings has a lounge on the ground floor and a fully equipped laundry room. There will be parking for 100 cars next to the two dorms. The units have been under construction since April 19, 1958 by Baldwin Contracting Co. of Marysville at a total cost of $666,000.

Workshop Set On Recreation

One hundred recreation leaders from throughout Northern California are expected to attend a workshop conference at Hamilton Air Force Base Sunday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., sponsored by the California Recreation Society.

Joseph D. Rodota of San Rafael, vice president of the society's District 1, said the workshop will orient and train professional leaders in community recreation departments.

Included will be panel discussions entitled "Armed Forces and the Community" and "Behavior Patterns in Recreation."

Hamilton recreation personnel also will attend.

12 Marinites Attend 4-H Leader Conclave

Twelve delegates from Marin County are home from a 4-H Club junior leader conference held last week at the University of California's Santa Barbara campus.

Tney are Betty Horick, Lynn Howard, Sheila Keena, Joanne Lally, Diana McIsaac, Genevieve Maestri, Martin Baccaglio, John Irwin, Bob Parks, Bob Ruzick, David Schwindt and Mike Silva.

The conference, with "Adventures in Leadership" as its theme, was planned to teach outstanding junior leaders better methods of leadership.

At the opening ceremony, Forest Berry, assistant vice president, Bank of America, Los Angeles, presented a check for $4,600 to help cover expenses of the 500 delegates from 48 counties during their stay at the conference.

The event was sponsored by the University of California Agricultural Extension Service and the Bank of America.

Training sessions dealing with 4-H Club work included public presentations, judging, exhibits, careers, song leading, utilizing community resources, communication, community service, understanding younger members, discussion, teaching methods, public speaking, meetings and personal improvement.

Junior leaders participated in workshops on publicity, group games, conference newspaper, music, assemblies and facilities, recreation, evaluation, closing ceremony and communications.

Four members of the International Farm Youth Exchange Program, three from Burma and one from New Zealand, spoke about their countries and gave some of their impressions of life in California.

Delegates got a taste of college life by living in the student dormitories and eating meals in the college cafeteria.

Elderly persons who live alone don't sleep as well as those who are married, according to a medical survey.

This honor signaled the midpoint in summer combat training at Camp Roberts. CWO Murphy resides at 23 Juno road in Belveron Gardens.

Outstanding Pupils Named At Davidson

Robert Evans and Jill Vernon were chosen as the outstanding boy and girl in the eighth grade class that was graduated last week from James B. Davidson School in San Rafael.

Twenty-one students received scholarship certificates for making the school honor roll all four report periods during their eight grade year. They were Dirch Brinckerhoff, Leslie Davis, Donald Day, Gayle Friedman, Marcia Goldberg, Steven Graham, Karen Hall, Beverly Helm, Joan Helms, Bruce Howard, Jeanne Kelly, Susan Knopf, Betty Lamperti, Wendy Mohrman, Stanton Nelson, Lane Retallick, Karen Simontacchi, Betty May Stark, Janet Strauss, Jill Vernon and Carol Weber.

Music awards were presented to Sharon Johnson and Donna Dewing.

Karen Simontacchi, student council president, presented the class gift of $100 for the school dramatics department to use to purchase incidental materials needed for play productions.

Transit Committee Assignments Made

Committee assignments for members of the Marin County Rapid Transit Liaison Committee were made last night by Chairman M. J. Lamperti in the county courthouse.

Not all of the 38 members have as yet been assigned, however. Lamperti said he had not yet heard preferences of about a third of the members.

T. J. De Lasaux, one of Marin's two directors on the Bay Area Rapid Transit District board, reported to the group on progress of the district in the last month including hiring of engineering consultants and passage of a $1,800,000 budget which will require a 3.8-cent per $100 tax rate.

Named to committees were:

Development and engineering—T. L. Wark, Belvedere; George Wickham and Robert R. Laughead, Mill Valley; L. J. Dervin, Novato; Edward Simpkins, San Anselmo; Hugh Cassidy, W. P. Duhamel, and Fred Ottoboni, San Rafael.

Finance—Jordan Martinelli Jr., Donald Chapman, Mill Valley; Farrington Jones, San Anselmo; James A. Marshall, Tomales; Erwin Scheller and Bradley B. Friedlander, Novato.

Liaison with governmental agencies—Edward P. Morphy and Pat Heatherton, San Rafael; Douglas Johnstone, Hicks Valley; Laughead, who also is the general committee secretary.

Firm Hired For Transit Plan Study

Wilsey and Ham engineering and planning consulting firm, with headquarters in Millbrae, has been retained by the five-county Bay Area Rapid Transit District to conduct routing and other studies in San Mateo County. The work is in connection with the development of detailed plans for a rapid transit system to serve the Bay Area.

Chief Engineer Kenneth M. Hoover said Wilsey and Ham was retained under a $45,000 contract to conduct routing and public utility location studies and to develop cost estimates for the San Mateo County segment of the projected system.

The work will be carried out under the over-all direction of the district's three-firm team of prime engineering consultants, Parsons, Brinckeroff, Hall and Macdonald, the Bechtel Corp. and Tudor Engineering Co.

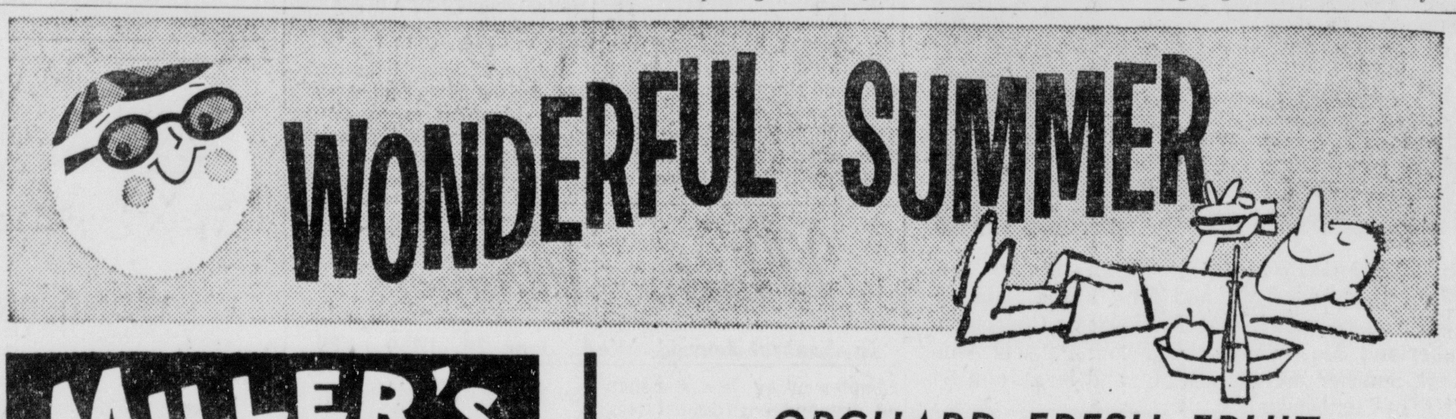

Routing studies in Alameda, Contra Costa and Marin Counties will be conducted by Tudor Engineering Co. and the San Francisco phases of the project will be handled by the Parsons, Brinckerhoff and Bechtel firms, Hoover said.

He added that aerial mapping of route areas in all five counties is nearing completion as a prelude to detailed route studies.

Lectures Set At Dillon Marine Station

A series of free lectures at the Pacific Marine Station at Dillon Beach plus a "seaweed excursion" were announced today by Dr. Joel W. Hedgpeth, director of the West Marin outpost of College of the Pacific.

The series is concurrent with the marine station's summer session which began Monday. A capacity enrollment of students from many parts of the United States and from abroad often will begin classes at dawn to take advantage of low tides.

Besides the regular students, six high school and junior college teachers have National Science Foundation scholarships to study the bottom fauna of Tomales Bay in a research program under Dr. Hedgpeth and Dr. Ralph G. Johnson of University of Chicago this summer.

OPEN TO PUBLIC

The seaweed excursion, open to the public as well as to students at the marine station, will begin at 7:45 a.m. on July 10 under Dr. George F. Papenfuss, professor of botany at University of California. Dr. Papenfuss has studied seaweed on the shores of Sweden, the Hawaiian Islands, and South Africa as well as the west coast of the United States. After a low-tide collection trip, a large part of the day will be devoted to identifying and preserving the finds. Those interested in taking part should notify the marine station in advance.

The guest lecture series will begin Friday. Each lecture will start at 8 p.m. in the dining hall at Pacific Marine Station.

Friday's lecture on "Climate along the California Coast, or why summers at Dillon Beach have stratus" will be given by Dr. John B. Leighly, chairman of the geology department at University of California.

JULY 1 LECTURE

The Juyl 1 lecture on "Studying the Shallow Sea with Aqualung" will be given by Dr. E. W. Fager, associate professor of biology at Scripps Institute of Oceanography.

The lecture on July 10 on "Insects of Sand and Dune" will be given by Dr. Edward S. Ross, curator of insects, California Academy of Sciences. Dr. Ross is a photographer of insects in motion and his talk will be illustrated by color slides.

"Indians of Marin and Sonoma Counties" will be the topic of the July 17 lecture given by Dr. Albert B. Elsasser of the University of California's Archeological Survey who has done excavation work in California, Nevada and Mexico.

Dr. Arthur D. Howard, professor of geology at Stanford University, will talk on "Bay Region Landscape" at the July 31 lecture. He will discuss the effect of fault action and erosion on landscape.

Brown Signs 4 Bills By McCollister

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has signed into law four more bills by Marin Assemblyman Richard H. McCollister. They include:

AB 2293, which requires a physician whose certificate is based on a medical officer commission to have been a resident of California at the time of entering service, not when entering medical school.

AB 1744, which prohibits directors of soil conservation districts from being sureties on bonds issued to the president or other officers of the dis and defines "landowner" in regard to qualifications for signing nomination petitions for directors.

AB 1743, which permits cities to assign operation of a county sanitation district to the supervisors, or vice versa, when the district overlaps part of a city and county, depending on which part of the district has the largest population.

AB 60 gives tidelands in the Bodega Bay area to the County of Sonoma.

FOUR REHEARSE ART-GARDEN FAIR DUET

Byron Jones, San Rafael baritone, and Mrs. Douglas C. Lindauer, San Anselmo soprano, who will sing a duet in a varied program of entertainment to be given by the Ross Valley Singers on Thursday, July 2, at 7:30 p.m. during the Marin Art and Gadren Fair to be held in Ross July 1-5, are caught in an off-beat moment of rehearsal as the Lindauer children join in the chorus. David Lindauer, 8, and Jimmy Lindauer, 6, are not expected to pipe-up during the scheduled concert. (Ken Molino photos)

Marin Boy Worked Hard To Take European Trip

Lance Ronneberg, 19, of Walnut avenue, Ross, attended the United Nations sessions in San Francisco when he was a child, and ever since then his interest in foreign governments and people has increased.

Yesterday he flew from New York to Copenhagen on the second leg of an extended European tour for which he has earned his own money while attending high school and College of Marin. The beginning of the trip was across the United States by bus so he would know his own country first.

Lance is more interested in knowing the people of a country than sightseeing. To this end he has had itinerary advice from a veteran San Francisco tour arranger who helped him plan to miss the usual tourist haunts. He has also joined the Youth Hostel program and from it obtained advice on what gear is most suitable when all the luggage is a knapsack and the travel is mostly by bicycle.

Lance has worked and saved toward his trip for three years, and has about $1,000 to use abroad. He earned it by gardening, baby-sitting, as a laborer, and even by selling cooked crabs on weekends as he drove the Light House Crab Company truck.

Relatives of his father, Terres A. Ronneberg, live in Norway, and Lance will visit them for basic information on European ways. He will stretch his travel money even further by being "company" with relatives of friends who are living abroad, including his aunt whom he will visit in Switzerland at Christmas. Other stops, of no set duration, will be in Belgium, Holland, Germany, and France.

Eventually Lance plans on a career in the foreign service, his mother reports.

Dr. Kelly Tells Of Africa Trip

Dr. John Milton Kelly, head of the music department at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, told a Mill Valley Rotary Club luncheon yesterday that "Africa is a sleeping giant just coming to life."

Dr. Kelly related some of his experiences during his recent trip with the Wesminster choir from the seminary which made a five-month, 41,000-mile African trip.

Touching briefly on the racial situation in some parts of Africa, Dr. Kelly said:

"We were somewhat disappointed to find in some parts of Liberia and Ghana that the Negroes who are descendants of freed American slaves consider themselves far superior to the native born and have adopted a marked arrogant attitude toward them."

He was introduced by Kent Seymour. Guido Todaro presided.

Lions Give $150 To Guide Dogs

Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc. of San Rafael has been presented $150 by the San Rafael Lions Club from proceeds of the Cane Drive held last fall.

A check for that amount was given Larry Reese of Guide Dogs by Leonard Phillips, of the club at a recent meeting.

Reese said all materials for six blind persons would be purchased by the fund.

School Site Disapproved By Planners

In an action which will delay, but probably not stop, the Novato Unified School District's acquisition of the 10-acre Connell property off South Novato boulevard for a school site, the county planning commission Monday disapproved the site.

The planners' disapproval, previously voiced by the commission staff, grew out of the fact that master road plans for North Marin call for extension of Hill avenue through the site.

Novato school trustees, however, have stated a determination to go ahead with plans to use the Connell property for a school site.

Under state law, a spokesman for the planning department explained, the commission's disapproval requires the school district to wait 30 days before proceeding with its plans. After that, however, the district may go ahead without planning commission approval.

Mill Valley Planners

A request for plan approval for an addition to the Mill Valley First Baptist Church at 285 Miller Avenue is one of the items on the agenda of the Mill Valley Planning Commission meeting scheduled for 8 o'clock this evening in the Mill Valley City Hall.

Recreation Group Urges County Acquire Areas Near Camp Taylor

In the heart of Marin's redwood region is Samuel K. Taylor State Park, which fills a unique need among the county's recreation spots.

"Camp Taylor is far too small for the crowds it attracts; even when the planned additions are all completed it will be too small," reported a subcommittee of the Marin County Recreation Committee in a recent 13-page summary of the county's recreation needs.

"The topography and general character make it impossible to provide much more in the way of picnic, camp and parking sites within the present or planned acreage," the report continued.

The report advocated that the county acquire additional redwood covered areas near Camp Taylor which are "unsuitable for intensive residential or agricultural use... Conservation of these lands in county ownership preserves the watershed function; it also allows recreational utilization. Furthermore, it must be repeated again, this type of territory is irreplaceable and there is no substitute once it is gone."

The recreation committee report also suggested that the county take steps to acquire the area along Inverness Ridge, one of the few areas with a stand of Bishop pine.

The Mt. Tamalpais region is protected by Tamalpais State Park plus the authorized Frank's Valley extension, Muir Woods National Monument and the watershed lands of the Marin Municipal Water District, the report noted. Recreation use of watershed lands may be possible through cooperation of a recently formed county recreation commission and the water district, the report said.

Another type of park, and one which does not now exist in Marin County, was suggested by the report.

This is a park of at least 100 acres which could provide a wide variety of recreation: golf, baseball, tennis, basketball, reading under trees, hopscotch, wading in creeks or pools, swimming, walking or hiking, horseback riding and picnicking.

"In other words, a park not only large enough to comfortably accommodate a great many county residents, but one with offerings to appeal to many tastes so that a family can come as a group and every member be satisfied," the report said.

"Such a park can only be located in the northern part of the county because it is only there that large enough areas are available . . . One very fine location is just inside the Marin County line, where San Antonio Creek is the boundary between Marin and Sonoma counties. This has good access since it is only a short distance from Highway 101, its traffic would cause congestion on only a short stretch of rural road, yet it is completely away from direct contact with the highway.

"The physical characteristics are excellent; the topography varies from hills to fairly broad flat valleys; the vegetation is mainly grass but there are trees on parts of the hills and in the drainage areas, including the creek bottoms. It is nearer to Petaluma than it is to Novato and there would be a possibility of creating a bi-county park which could turn out to be very advantageous to citizens of both counties."

A final recommendation made by the report was that the county urge the state Highway Department to start plantings along the highways and to establish roadside picnic stops.

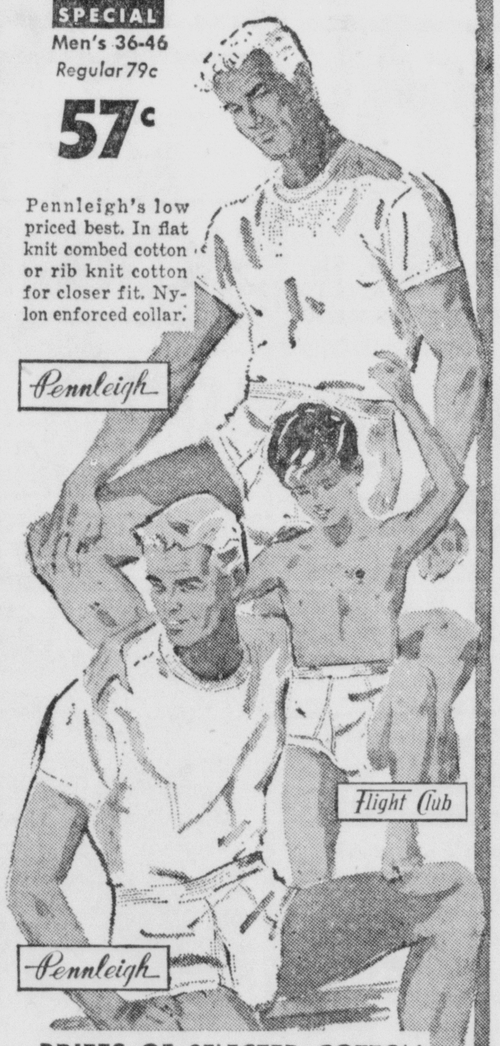

These stops are envisaged as numerous and small, consisting of one or more picnic tables and a nearby trash container.

"There is an opportunity here for participation of many kinds of groups, for instance, the Campfire Girls or chambers of commerce, to donate land, help in landscaping, or provide tables," the report said.

The county could do its part by establishing roadside rests along county roads, the report recommended.

LANDS WITH MARINES — Willard D. Marshall, son of Mrs. W. D. Marshall of 1382 Sir Francis Drake boulevard, San Anselmo, was one of 720 Naval Academy second class midshipmen who completed two weeks of amphibious warfare indoctrination and training at Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base in Little Creek, Va., June 18. One of the highlights was an amphibious landing at Camp Pendleton, Va., when trainees joined a Marine Corps battalion for practical application of classroom training.

Kick-The-Can, Run-Sheep-Run: Games Today's Kids Can't Play

What's happened to the good old games we played in summer evenings, when we were kids? Are they forgotten? I've been watching my children. I'm feelin' my years.

Did you play kick-the-can on warm June nights? And run, sheep, run? Do your children play those games now? Mine don't. I told my son about kick-the-can. He said it sounded corny. Then he asked, "How could we play kick-the-can in a street where cars drive by all the time?" I couldn't answer that one.

We used to have long hide-and-seek games in the twilight. We lived in a little town. One street, with orchards around it. We ran through yards, hid behind trees and hooted like owls at each other. I visited the town recently. There's no more hide-and-seek there. The orchards are gone, yanked out by the roots. Houses replace trees, close together. The little yards have high fences. The kids don't know what an owl sounds like. Now they play under electric lights, on the hard black surface of a city playground. They have a recreation leader to tell them what to do. I know there is no safe alternative. But the kids are missing a lot.

Even kites are dying out. We used to build our own. We whittled the sticks and tied them together. We used string and paste to put the paper on. Then a change came. Stores started selling ready-made kites. Kids flew more kites than ever. But now we have TV antennas on every house. Kites get tangled on them. Neighbors get mad. What chance has a boy with a kite today?

I'm not against change. I know it's inevitable. We can't turn back. But I feel sorry for those youngsters of ours.

READER'S FORUM

(Q) "Our boy was promoted on trial. If he doesn't improve by October he'll be put back. Do you think this would be wise?"

Mrs. W.F.

(A) I have some doubts. I have seen children profit by being held back at promotion time. But I never have seen a child benefit by being put back.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, June 24th, the 175th day of the year, with 190 more days to follow in 1959.

The moon is approaching the last quarter.

The morning star is Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Mars.

On this date in history:

In 1497, John Cabot became the first European since the days of the Norsemen to sight the mainland of the North American continent.

In 1647, Margaret Brent, possibly the first suffragette in America, appeared before the Maryland Assembly to demand a voice and a vote in that body. The Assembly was shocked.

In 1813, Henry Ward Beecher, later a celebrated preacher, was born.

In 1963, Confederate troops under General Robert E. Lee crossed the Potomac at Harper's Ferry, Va., to begin their invasion of Pennsylvania.

In 1947, the first "Flying Saucers" were reported, near Mt. Rainier, Wash.

In 1948, Russia began the Berlin blockade.

A thought for today: The Roman poet Juvenal said: "No man ever became extremely wicked all at once."

ON MARIN TOUR ITINERARY

The historic Sforza Castle in Milan, Italy, will be visited by members of the Independent-Journal-sponsored Marin tour of Europe next fall. Now a museum, it was the castle of the Sforzas, rulers of Milan in the 15th and 16th Centuries. The fountain in foreground was built by Mussolini during his rule of Italy four centuries later. Reservations for the $1,049, 20-day tour may be made through use of coupons appearing frequently in the I-J.

Smoker Suspected In Big Hotel Fire

STALHEIM, Norway (AP)—The careless smoking of a Norwegian guide today was suspected of causing the Stalheim resort hotel fire in which 25 vacationers are dead or believed missing.

It is believed 22 of the victims were Americans.

The guide was questioned through most of the night by police at nearby Voss. A police spokesman refused to give his name but said there is reason to believe he may have caused the fire through carelessness in cigarette smoking.

After questioning, the guide was released but was told to keep the police informed of his whereabouts. "Negligence is only a misdemeanor, so there was no basis for holding him," the police spokesman said.

Investigators did not discount the possibility some of the missing may still be found alive. Many of the hotel's 147 guests—130 of them Americans—scattered in the confused hours after the fire leveled the stately old wooden building early yesterday.

Seven bodies were found, and 18 persons were reported unaccounted for, officials said. Another 17 were hospitalized nearby at Voss, but spokesmen at the hospital indicated none were seriously hurt.

U.S. Embassy officials hurried from Oslo to help the tourists, most of them stranded without clothes, passports or other possessions.

The embassy refused to give out any list of American casualties or survivors until it made certain its information was correct.

Community Club In Novato Has New Executive

One insurance broker has replaced another as vice president of the Novato Community Club.

Worth Fenner, a member of the club's board of directors, has been named to replace Paul Terry, who resigned due to the press of business. Both are in the insurance business in Novato.

Joseph Dillenburg was elected to fill Fenner's vacancy.

Directors have agreed to a recommendation by Mrs. George Barnwell that a variety show be produced by the club next November, to be called "Fall Fling." It will be a revival of an annual variety show given by the club in former years.

Other appointments included Mary Ellen Lester, Novato High School English teacher, as editor of the club newsletter; Mrs. Elizabeth Tallitsch to the house committee, and Barbara Lennington and Rita Colangelo to the program committee

Directors also learned that the club had made a profit of $275 on Saturday night's Frontier Dance.

Son Helps Nab Slayer Of Father

YAKIMA, Wash. (UPI) — John Patrick Meagher, 24, was told yesterday his father had been murdered. Less than eight hours later, young Meagher played the key role in the capture of the suspect, a fugitive mental patient.

Meagher was driving from Seattle to Toppenish, 20 miles southeast of here, to claim the body of his father, Vivian A. Meagher, 57, when he saw "out of the corner of my eye" his dad's 1959 Dodge.

In his father's car was John Doyle, 22-year-old Indian of the Yakima tribe who had escaped June 9 from Northern State Hospital at Sedro Woolley, Wash. Doyle, arrested and transferred to the county jail here on a federal warrant charging him with Meagher's murder, was to appear before federal court today.

Meagher's body, with one bullet in the head and another in the chest, was found yesterday in a remote canyon about 25 miles southwest of here on the Yakima Indian reservation.

EVER HAPPEN TO YOU? By Blake

COUNTRY CLUB POOL IS OPEN

It's all splash and play at the two million dollar Country Club Pool at 88 Vivian way, San Rafael, which opened recently. The new recreation plant is open to private membership with season fees of $135 a family and $90 for individuals. The area also features a lounge, restaurant and supervised nursery-playroom for children. (Ken Molino photo)

Disney's Dreaming Up Another Hero For TV

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Walt Disney hopes he has another Fess Parker and "Davy Crockett" in Leslie Nielsen and "The Swamp Fox."

And "The Swamp Fox" hat — a leather tricorn with foxtail plume — could start another fad among the youngsters like Davy's coonskin.

Disney is filming half a dozen one-hour episodes of "The Swamp Fox" for his "Walt Disney Presents" TV shows resuming next fall.

If "The Swamp Fox" goes over, more episodes will be made.

It relates the adventures of the Southern hero of the American Revolution — Gen. Francis Marion, who harrassed the British guerrilla style.

Because of his cunning, he became known as "The Swamp Fox."

The stories are long on adventure — lots of shooting and hard riding — with a slight seasoning of humor and romance.

SWAMP COUNTRY

For authenticity's sake, Disney wanted to film them in real Southern swamp country. But investigation turned up so many snakes and other creepy critters he decided to do the shooting in California.

Filming is in progress on the Golden Oak Ranch, which Walt recently purchased as a location for outdoor pictures. It is 30 miles north of Los Angeles.

TALL HEROES

Nielsen is genial, ruggedly handsome and 6 feet 2 inches tall.

With his height, he almost measures up to such Disney giants as Parker, 6-5, Guy Williams, 6-3, Jerome Courtland, 6-4, and Tom Tryon, 6-3.

After serving in the Royal Canadian Air Force in World War II, Nielsen studied acting in Toronto and New York and then appeared in such TV shows as "Studio One," "Kraft Theater," "Philco Playhouse," "Robert Montgomery Presents" and "Suspense."

MOVIE ROLES

Paramount brought him to Hollywood in 1954 for a featured role in "The Vagabond King." Then for MGM he appeared in "Ransom," "Forbidden Planet," "The Opposite Sex," "Hot Summer Night" and "The Sheep Man."

In 1956, on loan to Universal International, he played the bachelor in "Tammy and the Bachelor" with Debbie Reynolds.

For the last year, he has been concentrating in TV, starring in "Climax," "Rawhide" and "G.E. Theater."

Radio Panel To Discuss Fund Uses

The Federation of Improvement Clubs has asked the Marin County Board of Supervisors to give consideration to use of tax money in supporting nonprofit organizations.

How far the county should go in spending tax money for these organizations will be the topic of discussion tomorrow from 9 to 10 a.m. on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

Guests of moderator Kitty Oppenheimer will be Arthur K. Smart, president of the Federation of Improvement Clubs; Miss Mabel Corbin, president of the Muir Woods Park Improvement Club; Robert Pendergrass, attorney, past president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and a former vice president and one of the founders of the Marin Development Foundation; Leon DeLisle, county auditor, and Paul Leahy, present head of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Questions phoned into KTIM during the broadcast will be presented to the panel for further comment. The comment will be heard Sunday at 12:30 p.m. via tape-recording.

Tame Hawk Gone From Jr. Museum

If you see a friendly hawk that appears to be lost, take him back to the Junior Museum of Marin.

S. Thompson Walker, director of the museum, said someone broke a cage containing two red-tailed hawks Monday. One hawk was found safe inside another metal cage in the main building of the museum. But the other is gone.

The hawk has been captive a long time and is used to being fed. It would probably die if someone did not feed it, Walker reported.

Elks Lodge Hours Set

During July and Aug. the San Rafael Elks Lodge will close at 6 p.m. except on evenings of special events or meetings. A "blackout jamboree" is scheduled for each Friday night. Business meetings will be held on July 23 and Aug. 20.

Rubens Painting Sells For $770,000

LONDON (AP)—A London art dealer today bought the Rubens masterpiece "Adoration of the Magi" for the highest price ever bid at a public auction—$770,000.

The painting was part of the collection of the late Duke of Westminster which went on sale at Sotheby's today to help pay inheritance taxes.

Appropriate Gift For Father's Day

Not every father receives a son for a Father's Day gift, but Dallas Drown of 334 Du Bois street in San Rafael did.

What makes the occasion memorable is that the seven-pound, three-ounce baby is reported to be the first born in the county on Father's Day, 1959.

Drown, an employee of the circulation department of the Independent-Journal, is the proud father of David Dallas Drown born at 2:30 a.m. Sunday, in Marin General Hospital.

Sanitary Tax Rate Unchanged

Directors of the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District board at their Monday night meeting agreed to make no change in the current 12-cent tax rate as they approved a $73,360 budget for the coming year.

Directors set for Monday at 8 p.m. in the Sausalito City Hall awarding of a contract for enlargement of the main North of of Marin City. It is expected to cost about $65,000.

Chairman Loren L. Jay said five bids are being studied.
